Fish May Vote Against President's 'Compromise'

(Special to the Daily Freeman)
By HUGH REYNOLDS

WASHINGTON — Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. (R-23rd District) may well be among those "hardened members" of the majority of the House Judiciary Committee that will vote against the "Nixon compromise" when the committee meets in special session tonight.

"The committee is meeting at 7 p.m. tonight," Fish told the Freeman from his office in the capitol, "and the only thing on the agenda is to consider the President's response to the subpoena."

Fish wouldn't predict the outcome of tonight's special meeting but suggested, "if the (Democratic) majority of the committee gets hardened and does not consider the President in substantial compliance with the subpoena they could hold the President in contempt of the committee."

The committee subpoenaed the so-called "Watergate tapes" on April 11. Presidential aides delivered some 1,200 pages of "edited" transcripts of the 42 tapes to Judiciary Committee members shortly before yesterday's 10 a.m. deadline.

His "compromise" was to allow the chairman (Democrat Peter Rodino) and ranking Republican member (Albert Hutchinson) of the Judiciary Committee to listen to the unedited tapes to verify that those parts deleted were not relevant to the Watergate investigation as the President contends.

Fish, and apparently a number of the 21 Democrats on the 38-member Judiciary Committee, wanted Special Counsel John Doar (for the Democrats) and Chief GOP Council Counsel Albert Jenner to be allowed to listen to the unedited tapes along with the majority and minority leader of the committee. This the White House has so far refused.

Fish allows that Nixon's response "goes a long way. It's a quite reasonable position, but it puts an awful burden on the chairman and the ranking member."

"I think this is a job for the counsel," Fish said. "They are both very able highly skilled trial lawyers who are more familiar with the case than any other member of the committee."

Fish also takes issue with the President's decision to release information to the public previously given to Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski and used as evidence against Watergate defendants.

Fish said there was "a whole mess of people (who) have been indicted and are awaiting trial in district court in Washington" in the Watergate case. Nixon's move, Fish said, "can only change the strict nature of the confidentiality of the case up to now."

Fish said he hasn't had a chance to read the transcripts that were delivered to him shortly before 10 a.m. on Tuesday.

The cover letter on the 49 envelopes containing 1,200 pages of transcripts read, according to Fish: "Submission of recorded presidential conversations to the Committee of the Judiciary of the House of Representatives by President Richard Nixon, April 30, 1974."

"It rather looks like the draft of a play," Fish said. He said the participants were identified initially by their last names (the President, Haldeman, Dean etc.) and then later by just their first initials. (P. H. D. etc.)

Fish did not comment on whether the "play" appeared to be a tragedy or a comedy.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Edited transcripts of White House tapes show President Nixon considered paying hush money to Watergate defendants, but he turned down proposals that they be granted clemency. They indicate he knew nothing about the break-in at the headquarters of the National Democratic Party until he read it in news reports June 17, 1972.

The unprecedented disclosure Tuesday of more than 1,200 pages of transcripts edited by the White House triggered additional controversy over Nixon's role in Watergate.

An accompanying White House summary of the transcripts put much of the blame for the Watergate scandal and the subsequent impeachment inquiry on what it contended was false testimony by Nixon's former counsel, John W. Dean III. It said the transcripts proved the President did not conspire to obstruct justice.

But some critics, including members of the House Judiciary Committee, which is considering his impeachment, said the edited transcripts were unsatisfactory, and that the committee needed the tapes themselves — on subjects including contributions from the milk industry, International Telephone & Telegraph and Howard Hughes.

Nixon had said earlier that the transcripts were in places "contradictory" and "ambiguous." They have so far gotten a mixed reception from the impeachment committee which sought them.

The transcripts covered only 31 of the 42 subpoenaed conversations, plus 17 other Watergate-related meetings or telephone conversations. The White House said nine of the remaining conversations were never recorded and two tapes could not be found.

Release of the transcripts was a gamble that the nation would share the conclusion they proved Nixon's innocence.

"In all of the thousands of words spoken, even if they are not clear and ambiguous, not once does it appear that the President of the United States was involved in a criminal plot to obstruct justice," White House lawyers said in a summary of the tapes.

The transcripts released Tuesday indicated that during a two-hour White House meeting on March 21, 1973, Nixon never explicitly rejected a proposal to pay $120,000 to buy continued silence from E. Howard Hunt, one of the seven Watergate bugging defendants. Nixon considered and rejected granting clemency as politically unworkable — and because, "It is wrong."

Related stories on page 3.

It was at this meeting that Nixon said he first learned the full story of the Watergate cover-up from Dean. At one point in the conversation, this exchange is quoted:

Nixon: "You have no choice but to come up with the $120,000, don't you?"

Dean: "That's right."

Nixon: "Would you agree any payment to Hunt, but he that that's the prime thing that did not even know a payment you damn' well better get that had been made."

Dean: "Obviously he ought to be given some signal anyway." Nixon: "... get it." (The three dots indicated an "expletive" had been deleted by the White House tape editors).

In the same meeting Nixon said there would be no problem raising $1 million and that he knew where to get it "to take care of these jackasses who are in jail."

Within hours of the meeting, $75,000 was paid to Hunt. Nixon: "You have no choice but to come up with the $120,000, don't you?"

ident not only did not approve of until after the '74 election, that's for sure," Nixon said. "Your point is that even then you couldn't do it."

"That's right," Dean replied. "It may further involve you in a way you should not be involved in this."

Judiciary Unit Ponders Moves

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats on the House impeachment inquiry say they will seek bipartisan approval tonight of a simple statement that President Nixon's Watergate transcripts do not comply with the subpoena for tapes.

Rep. Jerome Waldie, D-Calif., said after a caucus Tuesday night the simple statement should win Republican votes — and possibly lend weight to a noncompliance charge in the future.

Other Democrats said that was the clear consensus at the caucus on strategy for tonight's meeting — the inquiry's first night session — although no caucus vote was taken.

"We're going to discuss compliance or noncompliance," said Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, D-Iowa.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., said he was disappointed that the material the committee subpoenaed "has not been forthcoming."

"The subpoena speaks for itself," Rodino said. "The subpoena is for tapes."

Rep. William L. Hungate, D-Mo., indicated that the aim is to win a stand against the President's decision not to turn over tapes themselves without splitting the committee down party lines. Such a split could come, for instance, if a move were made to vote on enforcing the subpoena, such as through a contempt citation.

Rep. Robert McClory of Illinois, a senior committee Republican who happened by the Democrats' caucus, agreed: "We don't want to take any votes that will divide us."

But House Republican Leader John J. Rhodes said a similar caucus with committee Republicans produced overwhelming agreement that "the President was substantially in compliance."

"The President is in compliance now and the committee should get to work with the material it has," Rhodes added later.

At least three committee Republicans disagreed. Rep. Tom Rainsback, R-Ill., said the President's offer to let only the inquiry's two senior members listen to tapes to verify the transcripts should get a counterproposal from the committee that its chief staff aides also review the tapes.

Republican Reps. William S. Cohen of Maine and Hamilton Fish Jr. of New York also said they considered Nixon's offer inadequate.

But senior Republican Rep. Edward Hutchinson of Michigan and other committee Republican supporters of the President said he has met the terms of the subpoena.

One of them, Rep. Lawrence Hogan of Maryland, said, "He (Nixon) gave the committee the opportunity to review the tapes. I don't see what else we could want."

Court Fight Vowed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon will fight in court rather than comply with a subpoena by Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski for tape recordings of 64 of the President's Watergate-related conversations, his lawyer, James D. St. Clair, said today.

St. Clair said the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday provided what the White House believed to be sufficient material for Jaworski to try seven persons on Watergate cover-up charges.

"Everything we know is in the book," St. Clair said of the telephone book-sized volume containing the transcripts of Nixon conversations that the House impeachment investigators had subpoenaed. It was made public Tuesday after it was given to the committee. St. Clair said that instead of turning over the material Thursday morning as Jaworski had asked in a subpoena April 16, he would go to court asking Judge John J. Sirica to quash the order.

St. Clair said that in opposing Jaworski's subpoena, he believed he was on more solid ground than when the federal district and appellate courts upheld a similar subpoena by Jaworski's predecessor, Archibald Cox.

He said the Cox subpoena was for materials to be presented to a federal grand jury, whereas the Jaworski subpoena was for additional tapes for the new Watergate trials scheduled to start Sept. 9. St. Clair invited a group of columnists and news executives to an informal meeting Tuesday in the office of Ken A. Clawson, White House communications director, and was quoted as saying the Jaworski subpoena was an "unwarranted infusion into the confines of presidential communications."

St. Clair was quoted as saying that, in addition, Jaworski had failed to demonstrate that the tapes were really needed, as the prosecutor said they were, for the Watergate cover-up trials of seven persons, scheduled to begin in September.

Jaworski had said that the tapes were needed not only for the prosecution but for possible use by defense lawyers for the men, including former White House aides H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman and Charles L. Colson, and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

Mino Moves to Restrict Press.

KINGSTON — In a move he claims is not unusual in important trials, County Judge Raymond J. Mino has issued a court order barring the news media from making public any statements given outside the courtroom by persons connected with the trial of four Detroit, Mich. residents accused of possessing $250,000 worth of heroin and three guns.

Mino's order came only one day after the Appellate Division denied a change of venue motion made by defense attorneys on the grounds of alleged prejudicial pretrial publicity.

The order prohibits anyone employed within the courthouse premises and anyone who has participated in or might participate in the "handling or process" of the trial from making "extra-judicial statements of any kind" until a verdict is reached in the trial.

"The news media must be content with the task of reporting the case as it unfolds in the courtroom . . ." Mino said in the order issued Tuesday.

Jury selection in the trial of Marcella Murphy, 17, Melvin Lemmons, 33, Raymond Hardrick, 31, and Samuel Allen, 33, resumed in Ulster County Court today.

The four Michigan residents are on trial for first degree possession of a dangerous drug and three counts of weapons possession.

They were arrested March 28, 1973 on the New York State Thruway and were found to be allegedly in possession of the $250,000 worth of heroin, a machine gun and two pistols.

In a cover letter accompanying the order concerning dissemination of information about the trial, Mino said the order "is designed to prevent history from repeating itself."

Contacted in his chamber today, Judge Mino explained that the order stemmed from the change of venue motion made by defense attorneys in the case.

In their motion, the attorneys had objected to reports of unusual security precautions surrounding the trial, the report of the street value of the heroin, and the mention of the prior criminal record of one of the defendants, Mino said.

In introducing the order, Mino said, "The Court finds that the following orders and instructions are necessary and proper for the purpose of governing, controlling and regulating the conduct of the trial and all proceedings related thereto . . ."

"The news media is placed upon notice as to the impropriety of publishing material not introduced in the proceedings," he said.

The trial of the "Detroit Four" got underway March 25 in Ulster County Court. Jury selection continued for two days, but after two jurors were seated, defense attorneys requested an adjournment in order to introduce a motion for change of venue in the Appellate Division.

First Assistant District Attorney Ellen G. Donovan is prosecuting the case. Defense attorneys are Joseph P. Torraca, who represents Allen and Hardrick, Aaron E. Klein, who represents Lemmons, and Paul Goldberger of New York City, who represents Miss Murphy.

Odd-Even Easing

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Malcolm Wilson reportedly was ready to announce later today an easing of the odd-even gasoline purchase system on weekends, a Capitol source told UPI.

Wilson scheduled a news conference but a spokesman for the governor said he did not know what specific subjects the governor would discuss.

The source said, however, that the gasoline situation in the state had improved to the extent where Wilson believed lifting the ban on weekends would not cause resumption of long waiting lines that plagued motorists during late winter.

With better weather on the way, the state's tourist industry has pressed for a relaxation in the odd-even system at least on weekends. Some tourist industry spokesmen have called for its outright repeal to encourage prospective vacationers to book reservations in the state during the summer vacation season.

Maj. Gen. Almerin C. O'Hara told UPI that preliminary estimates indicated the state would receive about 95 per cent of the May, 1972 sales level for this month's gasoline allocation from the federal government.

O'Hara, however, said any announcement about lifting the odd-even provision would have to come from Wilson.

The odd-even system was imposed in late February by Wilson after motorists — especially in the eastern half of the state — had experienced long lines at service stations.

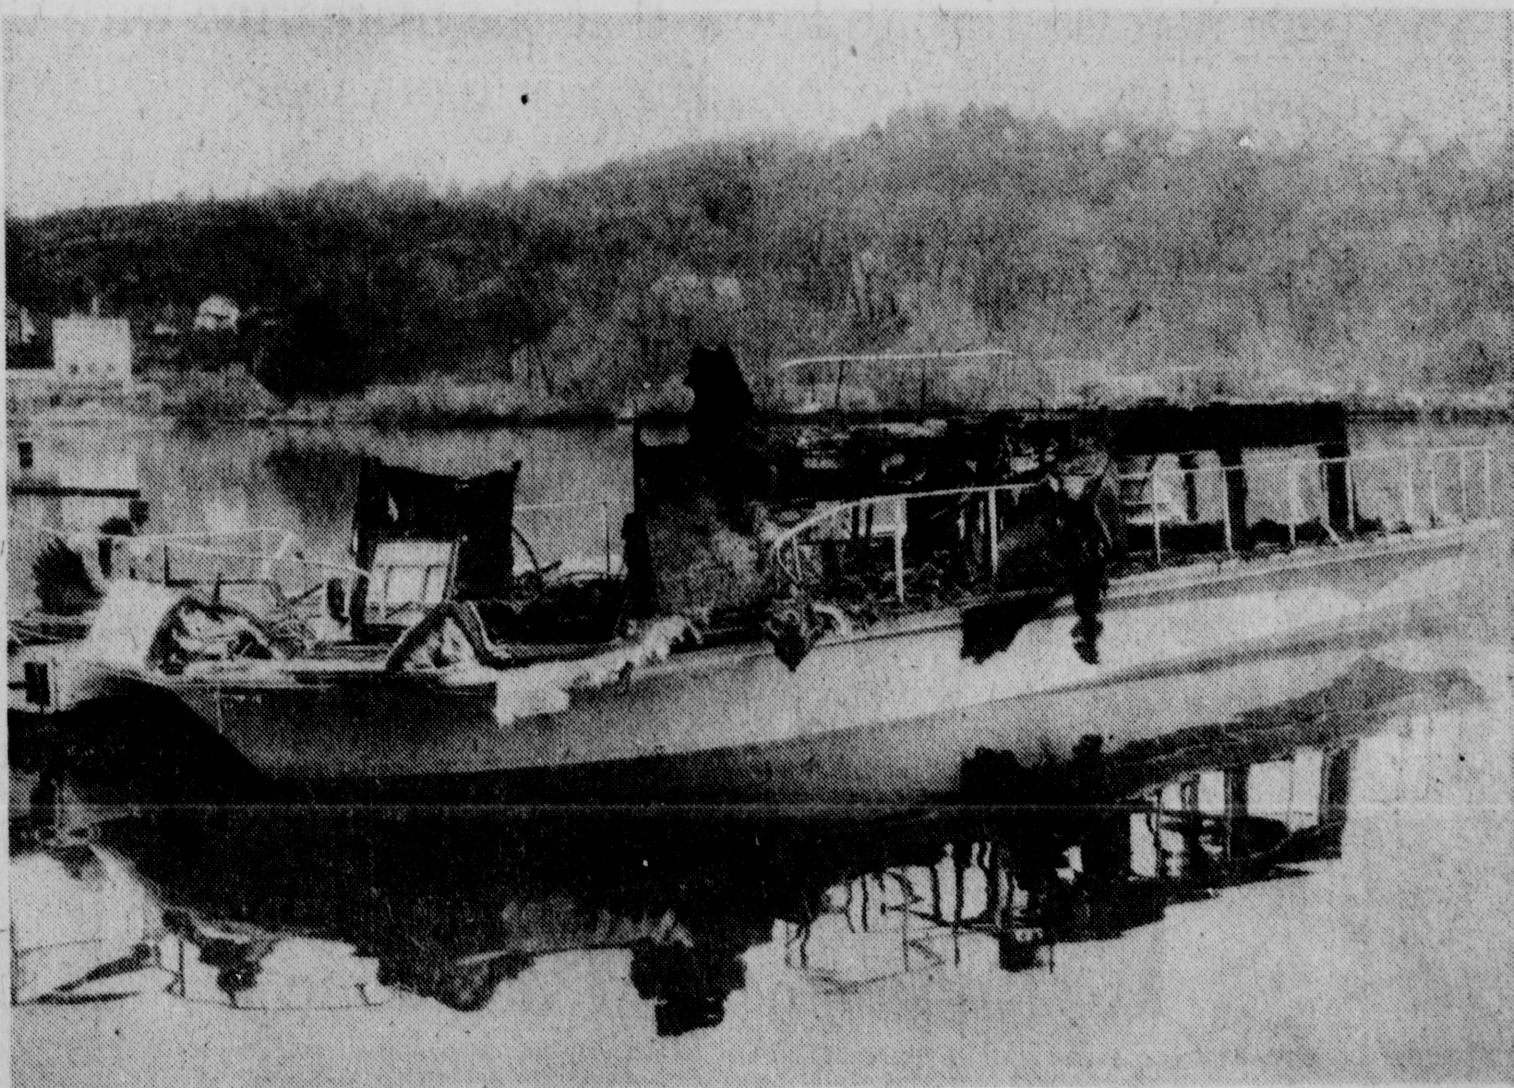

hours and some were closed at month's end as their gasoline supplies ran out.

Along with the odd - even system came a rule that motorists had to have less than half a tank of fuel before they could buy gasoline.

The odd-even system had an almost immediate effect on the waiting lines in most areas and Wilson, in early March, asked gasoline retailers to consider opening more stations on Sunday — many of which were closed at the request of President Nixon during the height of the crisis.

Despite the relative availability, there have been some warnings from gasoline retailing spokesmen that the supplies could become short again unless conservation measures are practiced.

Many service stations were then operating on restricted

Two Surrender in Houseboat Fire

KINGSTON — Apparently weary after eluding police for nearly 18 hours, two teenagers emerged from a wooded area in Kingston near the Rondout Creek Tuesday night and turned themselves in at Kingston Police headquarters, bringing to three the number of youths arrested in connection with burglaries and a $50,000 houseboat fire in Connelly earlier in the day.

State Police identified one of the two youths as Lester Litts, 15, of Connelly. The second youth who surrendered was not identified because of his age—15. Earlier Tuesday, police arrested Randy Coffey, 16, of Connelly at his residence.

Police had been searching for Litts and the juvenile throughout the day Tuesday, and reportedly had the wooded area where they were hiding under surveillance.

Authorities declined to disclose the exact location.

Coffey and Litts were both charged with third degree burglary. Police said information concerning possible arson charges will be presented to the grand jury.

With the arrests, police recovered a .38 caliber revolver, red, police said. Investigation Caffin of Stony Run Apartments, in Ulster County Jail in lieu of police said. A cabin cruiser, $25,000 bail each to await further court proceedings. The juvenile was released in his parents' custody pending family court action.

Zoning Referendum in Ulster

By JON POWERS

LAKE KATRINE — Town of Ulster residents will vote in November on a town-wide zoning plan that has been considered — in varying degrees — for the past six years.

But this will mark the first time that town residents actually decide themselves whether growth and development in Ulster County's second largest township should be guided by an official zoning ordinance.

At a special meeting of the Town Board and Planning Board Monday night, it was informally decided to put the question before a special referendum in November. A formal resolution to that effect will be offered at the May 9 meeting of the Town Board, according to Supervisor Carmine Sabino.

At that time, said Sabino, the Town Board is expected to name the six members of the Planning Board to a new temporary zoning commission. That group will decide just what shape the proposed zoning ordinance will take.

It is expected that the proposed zoning ordinance will closely resemble the town's Development Plan, which was approved in December after more than a year of preparation and debate. At the time it was approved, officials said the Development Plan could be the first major step in the official zoning process. The plan, in effect, was a statement of policy for the future physical and economic development of the town.

According to Sabino, Monday's decision to let the voters decide whether or not they favor zoning for the town was based both on a determination to involve the people in the decision-making process, and out of frustration over past attempts to gain a consensus from the public on the zoning issue.

Those previously appointed to the special bi-partisan committee by Legislative Chairman Savago include: Majority Leader Gardner, Minority Leader Dr. Gorman, Elmendorf and Klein. Savago serves as committee chairman.

plan. "The same people attend all the hearings," he said, "and the same points were raised over and over again."

"Now, we intend to give everyone a chance to vote," he continued, "and we will be guided by the results."

Four separate informational hearings on the zoning ordinance will be conducted in October, at various sites in the township. Following those four informational hearings, a legal public hearing on the proposed ordinance will be held before the people cast their ballot.

"This plan has been banded around long enough," said Sabino. "It's time we make a decision, one way or the other."

Zoning has been a topic of controversy in the Town of Ulster since the mid-1950's, but will prove a little more cooperative that controversy has intensified, weather-wise. The same in the past several years. Pro- varied program as previously announced that zoning would be performed.

Legislature to Act on Jail Amendment

KINGSTON — Ulster County Legislature will meet in special session tonight to act on a proposed amendment to a previous resolution calling for a special committee of the Legislature to conduct an investigation into and concerning the escape of prisoners from the Ulster County Jail. The amendment has been proposed by the special committee because "other events have raised questions concerning the administration of the Ulster County Jail. It asks that the investigation be broadened to consider breaches of security at the jail since 1972 rather than just during the current year, as originally suggested.

At the March meeting of the Legislature, the original resolution calling for the establishment of the special committee was adopted by a vote of 23 to 10.

Those voting for the proposal included Democratic Legislators Lewis C. Kirschner and James F. Gilpatrick. Also, Republicans Clifford Snyder, Charles Scala,

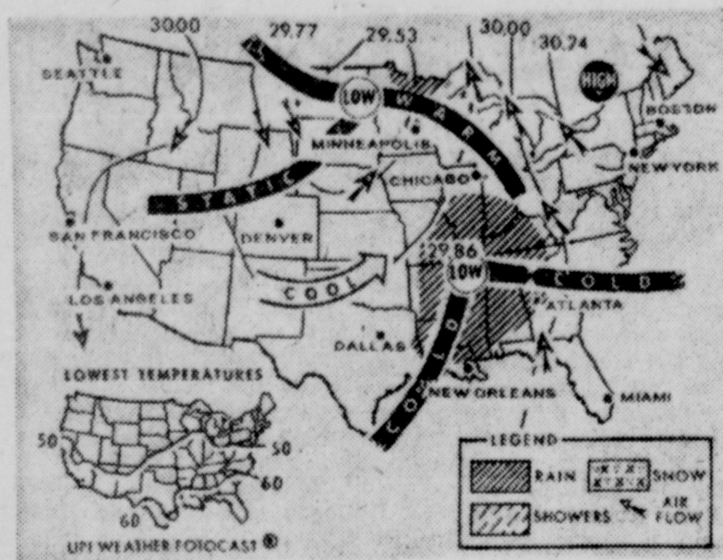

C. Freman Lasher, Lester C. Elmendorf, Richard D. Nace, Stephen G. Hyatt, William R. West, George A. Kirk, Ernest J. Gardner, S. Robert Kelder, Philip R. Davis, Lewis Hall, Glenn A. WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night. But he said he preferred that chairman, said the increases Americans will demand new price controls if the country's high inflation rate isn't held in check. President Nixon has warned business leaders. The White House was scheduled to release a new statement on the economy today.

He said the ending of his mention Watergate in his 25-minute speech, was applauded widely discredited controls program Tuesday creates a "great responsibility" for both business and labor leaders to use restraint in setting future wages and prices.

"If the fires of inflation continue burning too strongly, the demand for controls will come up again," Nixon told 3,200 businessmen and their wives at a significant role."

But he said he preferred that chairman, said the increases government policies to control inflation be confined to responsible fiscal and monetary policies. "The major answer to inflation is more production," he added.

But even as the President was urging restraint in future price increases, the nation's largest steel company, U.S. Steel Corp., said it will have to pay hikes of up to $16 a week increase prices despite an 80 per cent increase in profits in the first quarter of 1974.

Edgar B. Speer, U.S. Steel over the next two years.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS. The latest check showed the The price jumped in nine cities, has predicted that grocery prices will rise 12 per cent this year, 4 per cent more than last year's 16 per cent boost. Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz has said about two-thirds of the increase already has occurred.

The family grocery bill dropped slightly during April, the second straight month of decline, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

The pattern was the same as the one in March: Sales on meat and eggs offset steadily rising prices on items like sugar and milk.

The AP checked the price of 15 food and nonfood items in 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked at the beginning of April. The checking method, using standard brands and sizes or their nearest equivalents. Items not available on one of the check dates were not included in the marketbasket total.

The marketbasket total declined in eight cities during April, down an average of 3 per cent. It went up in the remaining five cities, generally about 1 per cent. The marketbasket total went down in nine cities during March.

Even with the decreases, grocery bills remained well above the levels of March 1973. The marketbasket bill was higher in every one of the cities on March 1, 1974, than it was 14 months earlier. The average increase was 13 per cent.

Sugar, which has been rising since late last year because of increased world demand and lower supplies, went up again.

The price was unchanged in three and down in one. The average price of a five-pound sack of sugar at the start of May was $1.23, up 5 per cent from the $1.17 price last month and up 81 per cent from the 68 cent price on March 1, 1973.

Eggs were down and in seven cities a dozen medium eggs cost less than they did on March 1, 1973. The price declined during April in every city but Philadelphia, with an average drop of 18 per cent. Pork chops also declined in seven cities, down an average of 17 per cent.

The cities in the AP survey were: Albuquerque, Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Denver, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Items on the checklist were: Chopped chuck, pork chops, paper towels, frozen orange juice, coffee, butter, eggs, peanut butter, detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

DETROIT (UPI) — Profits of the "Big three" automakers, squeezed by inflationary pressures that have pushed up costs of labor and materials and an energy crisis-induced sales slump, plunged 80.6 per cent in the first quarter of 1974.

The Ford Motor Co. completed the reporting by the "big three" Tuesday with a financial statement that showed profits of $125 million in the first three months, off 65.7 per cent from last year's record of $361 million.

It was Ford's lowest profit since 1967's first quarter when the No. 2 automaker earned $120.6 million, but high enough to give Ford a $4 million edge on industry giant General Motors Corp. which showed an 85 per cent drop from year-ago levels. Chrysler earnings were off 98.2 per cent.

Ford's worldwide sales in the first quarter were $5.5 billion, down 11 per cent from sales of $6.1 billion. Earnings amounted to $1.31 a share, down from the $3.59 earned in the corresponding period of 1973.

Altogether, the three companies earned $245.6 million in the first quarter, compared with $1.27 billion in last year's first quarter. Sales in the period totaled $15.1 billion, a drop of 18.8 per cent from $18.6 billion in last year's first three months.

American Motors Corp., which was due to report its earnings today, was expected to show a slight increase in earnings since its sales have increased.

Like his counterparts at GM and Chrysler, Ford chairman Henry Ford II blamed the profit decline on "substantially lower volumes in the United States and Europe and from continued rapid increases in labor and material costs."

Sales of Ford-built cars and trucks in Canada in the first quarter were up 20 per cent from the previous high set in the first quarter of 1973, but car sales declined 3 per cent from the prior year.

Ford said there are strong indications that the U.S. auto market—off more than 27 per cent in the first quarter—will rebound based on the expectation "that economic growth will resume and that adequate supplies of gasoline will be available."

"Have they found the box yet?" the President asked, according to his Watergate tapes transcripts.

Dean: "(Then Acting FBI Director L. Patrick) Gray has never had access to the box. He is now going to pursue the box"

Haldeman: "The latest public story was that she handed it over to Edward Bennett Williams."

Dean: "That is right."

Haldeman: "The Bureau ought to go into Edward Bennett Williams and start questioning him and have him tied up for a couple of days."

Nixon: "Yeah. I hope they do. The Bureau better get over pretty quick and get that little red box. We want it cleared up.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Observing that a trial of John N. Mitchell would take a long time but that the former attorney general would never plead guilty in the Watergate affair, President Nixon asked on April 17, 1973, "What would you do if you were Mitchell?"

"I think I would probably go to Saudi Arabia to tell you the truth," replied Asst. Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen.

"Poison," mused Nixon.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Watergate hearings brought full public attention to the scandal, but only a month before they began, President Nixon told aides privately: "I don't think the committee hearings will ever go forward."

Later the same day, April 17, 1973, he said: "I don't want the damn Ervin committee to go forward."

Rain Christens Expo Opening

By CARL GRAHAM

KINGSTON

Rain washed out the opening parade and skydiving exhibition but failed to dampen the spirits of the visitors to Tuesday's opening night of the 27th annual Kingston Lions Club Exhibition and Home Show.

A large crowd waited impatiently while Alderman Peter Mancuso and Miss Ulster County, Debbie Buchan, cut the traditional opening ribbon at the main entrance to the New York State Armory on Manor Avenue. Moments after the ribbon was snipped they crowded into the building to visit about 150 booths and exhibits.

The Amerscot Highland Pipe Band under Pipe Major Frank Hudak twirled and swirled through an exhibition of Scottish music that helped make up for the lack of an opening parade. Other entertainment was furnished by James Perry and Jerry, a ventriloquist act which appeared on Ted Mack's TV show, and George Redmond, a Kingston magician.

Tonight is country and western night and will feature Gale Myer. On Thursday, Clancy, Kingston's only performing dog, will perform 15 tricks of canine cleverness, including dancing, arithmetic, and balancing, and the Lefooters Western Square Dance Club will circle and swing through some of the most popular western square dancing routines. Friday is rock concert night and Saturday's closing day entertainment will be announced later. The President's Award for the best overall exhibit was won by a large outdoor garden display prepared by the Hillside Acres Garden Club and the Rondout Valley Homemakers in cooperation with Orvil Norman of the Kingston Garden Center, a perennial exhibitor. The award was won by the same group last year. Feature of the display is a summer gazebo prepared by Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Cart and Mrs. Frederick L. Siegel of the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State.

The gazebo was built entirely from recycled materials, including rug and carpet rolls, cottage cheese cartons, plastic coffee spoons, furnace filters, food cans, scrap lumber and paneling. Judging was done by Lions Richard Kalish and Bernie Farrell and Ms. "Mickey" Duncan, who was an award winner last year.

Theme awards went to WKNY, Mid-Hudson Libraries and H and M Television. Show awards were taken by Schaller Automotive, the 4-H Club, and the Ulster County Blood Bank. Honorable mention awards went to the Kingston City Schools art department, the Kingston Volunteer Fire Department, and B and H Automotive.

A health clinic open to all will test for glaucoma, diabetes, blood pressure, emphysema and tuberculosis from 7:30 to 9 p.m. on Wednesday and Thursday, with a special matinee for senior citizens at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Results of the free tests are sent to private physicians for evaluation.

Enlivening the scene are colorful art displays by pupils from area schools, with oils, watercolors, pastels, and other media lining the walls with illustrations of the inventiveness of youth.

The varied exhibits include among their more unusual numbers a live Smokey the Bear handing out literature for the Kingston volunteer firefighters, a casket (empty) and a display of the Yoga for Life Institute, along with commercial displays and booths manned by political parties and religious organizations.

Visitors receive programs that include a number that puts them in the running for nightly drawings for such items as acrylic blankets, auto timers, alarm clocks, cameras, spice racks, corn poppers, dishes, shavers, and other essentials of modern life. Lions will give away more than $3,500 in prizes during the five-day exhibition, including a $2,500 grand prize Saturday night.

Professor to Attend Conference

NEW PALTZ

Professor William N. Fenton of the State University of New York at Albany, the dean of the Iroquois scholars, has accepted an invitation to participate in the Third Eastern Regional Conference on the Native American to be held Saturday at the State University College at New Paltz.

The theme of this year's conference is "The American Indians of the Hudson Valley: Prehistory, History, and Culture." The conference director, Dr. Laurence M. Hauptman, assistant professor of history at the college, said that numerous scholars have been invited to talk about such topics as Hudson Valley prehistory and the music and art of the Eastern Woodlands American Indians.

The conference will begin at 9:30 a.m. and last until 5 p.m. in Room 100 of the college's Lecture Center. Admission to the conference is free and the general public is invited.

Pentagon Figure-Juggling

The Department of Defense has an astonishing capacity for sleight of hand with funds appropriated for military purposes. This capacity manifests itself in two ways.

On occasion, large sums of money appear to vanish, only to surface again somewhere else. Every once in a while too, the true cost of some weapons system is more or less cleverly obscured so that neither Congress nor the public seems able to learn just what is being paid out.

A short time ago Congress was told by the Pentagon officials that they had found 266 million dollars they didn't know they had. It seems that this sum had been mislaid through an accounting error, and was now miraculously available to provide that much more military aid for South Vietnam. Various explanations as to how this might have occurred have been offered. Our favorite is one attributed to an unnamed congressional source: "It cannot be explained."

More recently we have Rep. Les Aspin's charge that "the Navy has not been frank with the Congress and the public about Trident's true price tag." The Wisconsin congressman maintains that the Navy has deceptively not included some 2.8 billion dollars in its cost figures for the Trident submarine and related missile development. He itemizes omissions which, to his way of figuring, make it appear that the cost will be around 12.4 instead of 15.2 billion.

The Navy denies that there has been any concealment, arguing that certain items have simply been included in other categories. For example, the Navy says, 1.53 billion of the sum Aspin is concerned about is for equipping Poseidon submarines with the Trident missiles, and thus is charged against the Poseidon rather than the Trident program.

The Navy may have some right on its side. Still, there does appear to be a lot of questionable figure-juggling. A system under which millions of dollars can be mislaid, and billions confusingly shifted from one category to another, poorly serves the public which foots the bills.

Help for Juveniles

Philadelphia Judge Lois Forer has proposed a unique way to improve the juvenile-justice system so that it will not prepare young offenders for further crimes.

The judge maintains that the juvenile-justice system does not improve children, but instead very often prepares them for a life of crime. She says that at least one-third of all children in jails and jail-like institutions are there not because they have committed crimes but because they have run away from home, have not adjusted to the school system, or simply do not have suitable homes.

Some communities have developed child advocacy programs so that children will have someone to speak for them. The organization goes to court to act as an advocate, keeps watch on agencies, runs workshops on women's and children's rights and in some instances has set up centers where preschool children can be tested and treated before juvenile problems become acute.

Mrs. Forer's idea has merit because it would be less costly for a community to halt juvenile problems than to wait until they become too severe. It costs an estimated $7,000 a year to keep someone in jail.

The Philadelphia judge believes that 85 percent of the children who get caught can be saved. She has drawn up model legislation to change the juvenile-justice system. In it she proposes her Bill of Rights for Children:

1. Right to health care.
2. Right to a home. If the parents are unable to provide a suitable home, there must be some alternatives.
3. Right to an education. Today the child has to fit into school. If he is retarded or emotionally disturbed or difficult, one way or another, the school system will get rid of him.
4. Right to liberty. No child should be deprived of his freedom unless it has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt he has committed an act which, if committed by an adult, would be considered a crime.

Besides the Bill of Rights, Judge Forer wants Congress to set aside money for a nationwide network of Child Advocacy Center and a national medicare program for children.

BERRY'S WORLD

"The trouble with this new breed of criminals is that they are no longer governed by any form of principle!"

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — In a sizzling, secret report which Republicans are fighting to suppress, House investigators have charged that President Nixon has spent $17 million in public funds on his private estates.

The report lashes the responsible government agencies for their cavalier spending and calls upon them to "seek restitution" of the "unauthorized expenditures."

"(They, have abused the discretion given them," charges the report. "They have permitted public funds to be used to procure non-security items. They have permitted non-government personnel to commit federal government funds. They have abandoned fiscal responsibility..."

The Secret Service is singled out for allowing President Nixon to improve his private property in the name of security. This "has tarnished the image of a once highly respected organization," declares the report.

The cost of providing protection on private presidential property has soared, states the report. "From practically nothing during the Roosevelt-Truman era to more than $17 million during the first five years of the Nixon Administration. This is more than the combined salaries of all United States Presidents."

President Nixon is lectured for "imposing burdens on the taxpayers of the nation. Maintaining private residences for use a few days each year," scolds the report, "imposes a heavy burden on the public treasury..."

Funds needed to provide presidential security should be, have been and are really available. However, every dollar that is diverted into nonsecurity expenditures under this program is a dollar that is not then available to provide needed additional security."

This is the latest word on a scandal we pried open on Oct. 3, 1972, when we reported that the taxpayers were financing improvements at President Nixon's San Clemente estate. A House subcommittee, headed by Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., conducted an exhaustive investigation.

The findings were approved by the Democrats but rejected by the Republicans, who have now produced their own report. We have obtained bootleg copies of both versions. The differences are quite revealing:

— The Republican version completely ignores the question of paying the taxpayers back for "unauthorized expenditures" on President Nixon's San Clemente and Key Biscayne property. Yet the Joint Taxation Committee, which investigated Mr. Nixon's tax returns, counted these expenditures as extra income and ruled that the President owed taxes on them.

— The Republican draft doesn't mention the $17 million — $9.2 million at San Clemente and $7.8 million at Key Biscayne — that the Brooks report claims the government spent on the two estates. The Republicans speak instead of $700,000 that the President spent on his San Clemente house and brush off the rest casually as "additional expenditures of federal money."

— The Republican version deletes evidence that the Nixons personally ran up the government gardening bill at Key Biscayne. Referring to the Nixons as "our clients," a General Services Administration memo reports that they "had visited Key Biscayne and some changes had been made in the landscaping plan." This resulted in a $4,685.70 increase in the original bill.

The Republican report also treats as routine the installation of an exhaust fan in the fireplace of the President's San Clemente den. Not mentioned is a memo from the secretary to President Nixon's attorney, Herb Kalmbach, reporting that the Secret Service had agreed to "pay off the installation of the fireplace fan after I informed him (the agent in charge) that it definitely was placed for security reason and how would he like it if you know who was aspirated (sic)."

— The GOP version doesn't make clear that the taxpayers shelled out $5,300 for the installation and purchase of 13 lanterns to light and beautify the presidential grounds. Four are still being stored in a warehouse.

— The two versions disagree over a $1,666.90 bill which presidential crony Robert Abplanalp submitted to the GSA for repairs and painting on houses in the President's Key Biscayne compound. The Brooks report notes that "nothing in GSA's records indicates under what authority Mr. Abplanalp had acted in contracting for work for which GSA assumed responsibility." More charitably, the Republicans conclude that Abplanalp had acted in a good faith manner.

— At San Clemente, the government shelled out $57,582 for a wall to enclose the 26 acres of land which the President originally purchased. He later sold all but six acres to Abplanalp. Yet the Brooks report notes that "no effort was made to reimburse the federal government in any way." Defending the President, the Republican draft argues that Nixon didn't benefit from the wall.

— Both reports agree that the President paid only $1,043 for paving at San Clemente while the taxpayers wound up with a $21,044 bill. The Brooks report cites a memo from the President's architect, Hal Lynch, suggesting the paving cost "be shared equally by the contractor, General Services and the Secret Service." The GOP document preferred to view the paving as serving "a protective purpose or incident to other protective work."

MEDIA MISFIRE: A gadfly group, which calls itself "Accuracy in Media," has been taking potshots at the press in the name of accuracy. Its own accuracy has been so slipshod, however, that few editors pay attention to it.

In a recent blast, for example, the group accused us and other newsmen of falsely reporting that Graham Martin, the U.S. ambassador to Saigon, had urged the Department to deny "honest and detailed" answers on Indochina to Sen. Ted Kennedy, D-Mass.

Since this information came right out of Martin's confidential cable to the State Department, we were curious where in the world "Accuracy in Media" got the idea our story was false.

The attack on us, we learned, was written by a Federal Reserve employee named Reed Irvine who acts as the group's chairman. His effort was processed by the operational chief, Abraham Kalish, who admitted he didn't have a copy of Martin's cable for reference at the time he okayed Irvine's attack.

"Not even we are 100 percent perfect," Kalish admitted.

Inside Report

The Soviet Stick

By ROWLAND EVANS

and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's scheme to give Moscow a ringside seat during his effort in the Middle East to disengage Israeli and Syrian forces is being threatened by both Israel and Egypt, thereby endangering his overall settlement plan.

Both Israel and Egypt are independently and for differing reasons acting to frustrate Kissinger's Soviet tactic, which is central to his grand design. By giving the Soviets just enough sense of participation, Kissinger hopes to dissuade Moscow from cutting the cable on his dramatic high-wire act in mid-course.

Thus, a private agreement was reached between Kissinger and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko calling for a meeting in Geneva on the eve of Kissinger's journey to Israel and Syria which began Sunday to nail down a separation of warring Israeli and Syrian forces.

That Kissinger-Gromyko meeting was to have been announced with fanfare just before it took place. But President Anwar Sadat of Egypt, now near the top of the world's Soviet-haters, leaked the news himself a week ahead of time. Sadat's apparent game: to show the Russians he is privy to secret U.S. planning in all aspects of the Middle East.

Although officials here are publicly philosophical about Sadat stealing their thunder, they privately complain it has further aggravated a potentially explosive setback to the grand American design. Sadat's ploy has fed Soviet fears of being frozen out of a Middle East at peace while the U.S. is firmly entrenched with its former Arab antagonists.

The other half of the story is growing resistance in Israel to giving Moscow any share in the Golan mediation.

Kissinger and Gromyko had planned a second dramatic meeting in Damascus itself following the Geneva session. Kissinger's purpose in arranging the Damascus meeting was to ease Soviet fears of being last man out by having Gromyko at the scene of action.

The Israelis, however, balked. As we write this it is far more likely that Gromyko will go to Damascus after Kissinger leaves.

The importance of Kissinger's grand design — keeping the Soviets happy enough to prevent their sabotaging a political settlement — can only be understood in the approaching third stage of the complex negotiations. Following the Israeli-Egyptian and the Israeli-Syrian disengagements, the third stage is to start the Geneva conference with the presence of the Palestinians as a key element in the negotiations.

If Moscow decides to scuttle the delicate Kissinger plan, all it needs do is block attendance at the Geneva conference by the more moderate Palestinian nationalists headed by Yasser Arafat. The Soviets could insist that the true representative of the Palestinians is not Arafat but some more militant extremist.

That would keep Arafat home. But a radical Palestinian delegate would never be admitted to the Geneva conference. So there would be no representation at Geneva for the Palestinians — the heart of the bloody Middle East struggle. In that case, the Geneva conference would fail before it starts. Indeed, without Palestinians present, the Syrians themselves would boycott Geneva even if Kissinger effects a Golan Heights disengagement.

President Hafez Assad of Syria is already battling radical elements in his Baath party ready to charge him with selling out both to the U.S. and to U.S. "stooges" in Cairo. These radicals know that Assad is as eager as Sadat to make a new deal with the U.S.

Assad has personally telephoned exiled Syrian moderates in Beirut who fled Syria at the peak of anti-American sentiment following the 1967 war. Assad's message to these former leaders of Syrian business, banking and commerce: come home! Assad, just as Sadat, has glimpsed an economic future in which American capitalism and technology loom large.

But Assad still depends on Soviet backing for every new arrangement he makes with the U.S. and Israel. Moscow's hand in encouraging Syrian battle against the Israelis the past six weeks, a fact widely accepted here, is proof of that. For him, full partnership between Kissinger and Gromyko in Kissinger's Golan Heights mediation is vitally important.

Keeping the Soviets happy, therefore, is essential for Kissinger in this fifth trip to the Middle East. By acting as though Moscow has no stick left to strike with in the Middle East, the Egyptians and Israelis seem determined not to help him.

Mishandling the Racial Scene

It is 20 years since the United States Supreme Court decided that, in the relationship of Negroes and Caucasians, "separate but equal facilities" are unconstitutional. In retrospect, there seemed to be a moment of silence. Then America became convulsed in flames. The emity lasted much longer than the Civil War. This one flickers and subsides like an old fire, but the ashes are always hot. The years tick by slowly, and the black man has attained equality under law. In offices and hospitals and scientific laboratories, he earns more money and more respect than before.

But when the sun goes down, the Negro is on one side of the railroad track and the white man is on the other. He can buy a house in a white area, but he must choose carefully or his children are going to watch white youngsters play from behind a fence.

We have a token black on the Supreme Court. There are mayors and other public officials elected by "white folks." Television hires blacks to sell deodorants and shampoos. Whites are driven by bus to distant black schools, and vice versa.

America, with 190 million Caucasians and 23 million Negroes, is a homogenized family. Or is it? When the great court decision was first handed down, William Randolph Hearst asked Burris Jenkins, a great artist and me to hire a car and tour the South. We paused at all the crossroads in a great swing through Mississippi, Louisiana, Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas and Virginia.

Jenkins drew black faces and white faces with the same pencil. I wrote everything the white man said, and the Negro, too. To summarize, neither side trusted the other. Years later, I researched a comprehensive biography on Martin Luther King, Jr. Same result.

Lynching is gone. White Citizens Councils are extinct. The Ku Klux Klan is sadistic history. A newspaper editor in Richmond told me that almost all Negroes are laden with venereal disease.

All of that is gone with the wind. Progress has been made. It would be cynical and cruel to state that we have attained brotherhood. We tolerate each other. And both sides have learned to mend their manners. Few Southern bartenders serve a black man and smash the empty glass against a wall.

The wrongs are not one-sided. Behind Martin Luther King, Jr., the marchers broke ranks, smashed windows, pillaged and set fires. He preached peace, but he was also the daddy of those long, hot summers. In Chicago, Jesse Jackson helped his people by threatening black boycotts of stores, banks, insurance companies and small business.

It worked. But no one in Chicago wrote a story about the poor whites who lost their jobs. In Watts, Detroit and Newark, those who could not build destroyed by fire. It's a two-sided mess.

We reserved the deepest cruelties for our children — black and white. To achieve balance in schools, we jammed black children on buses to sit behind desks in an alien white school. We did the same to white youngsters.

All it did was to prove that Negro schools were, roughly, about 18 months behind white ones in any given grade. Negro boys and girls, good students in their own schools, were crushed trying to keep up with the smirking pale faces around them.

Some things cannot be achieved on order. Formal education is one. Black children weren't retarded; their schools were. It is too late for our generation to achieve brotherhood. If we had been wise, we could have gentled our children toward it. Most of us who are white do not like to think that the Negroes have been American longer than we. Their ancestors arrived here as slaves 350 years ago. Most of my forebears arrived from Ireland in 1870.

Back in 1955 and 1956, I was lied to by many blacks. They said everything was fine. Some of them sat behind kerosene lamps in shacks surrounded by tall corn. They wanted equality, yes. But they wanted acceptance, too.

They have not been accepted. Nor will I live to see it come to pass. Ironically, when many of us were trying to erase racism, young black militants stopped straightening their hair and began to grow "Afros." Some devised terrorist groups like the Black Panthers. The decision of May, 1964, said that all men are truly equal.

But some will always think they are more equal than others...

Brawl Halts Trial of Indians

SIoux FALLS, S.D. (UPI) — A club-swinging courtroom battle between Indians and police that resulted in a dozen casualties brought a one-day recess today in the trial of five militant Indians charged in a 1973 riot at Custer, S.D.

Court is to reconvene Thursday at 9:30 a.m. following the free-for-all Tuesday which sent 10 persons to the hospital for treatment and indirectly caused the deaths of two other persons. An elderly Sioux Falls couple were occupants of a car which was hit by a state patrol cruiser racing to the scene of the battle.

Ramon Roubideaux, chief attorney for the five defendants, said he would demand a mistrial be called or that the trial be moved to federal court. Roubideaux and leaders of the militant American Indian Movement (AIM) said the Tuesday courtroom incident showed again that Indians cannot get a fair trial in South Dakota courts.

An order by the presiding judge, Circuit Judge Joseph Bottom to clear the courtroom touched off the fist-swinging chair-smashing brawl on the third floor of the Minnehaha County Courthouse. About 75 to 100 Indians outside the building smashed windows and hauled down the American flag when they saw chairs flying out the third-story windows of the courthouse.

Eda Gordon, spokesman for the legal committee representing the Indians, called it "a police riot if there ever was one." AIM supporter John Thomas said no action was taken by any of the Indians in the courtroom. But at a news conference Tuesday evening, Sioux Falls law enforcement authorities denied that police started the courtroom brawl.

Sioux Falls police Capt. Earl Callahan said that when officers moved into the courtroom, spectators in the first three rows "immediately got up and started throwing seats and benches. They (Indians) can say we started it, but that's not correct . . ."

Officers said five persons were arrested. Two of the five were charged with assault with intent to do great bodily harm, and three others have not yet been formally charged. Bottom issued his order to clear the courtroom after about 15 Indian sympathizers in the room refused to stand when the forces of the village of Wounded Knee, S.D.

WINDOW SMASHER — An unidentified person uses a street barricade to smash windows in the Minnehaha County courthouse in Sioux Falls, S.D. as the trial of five persons on charges arising from an Indian demonstration at Custer, S.D., last year erupted into sharp fighting, leaving the courthouse in shambles. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Two Suspects in Zebra Case

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Two "possible suspects" have been placed in custody for the "Zebra" killings, which were an initiation rite of a black underground group, a television station reported Tuesday night.

Newsman Jack Bates of KRON said the rite was "weird and bizarre" and has spread "across the United States." The two suspects, Bates said, were being held outside San Francisco to keep reporters from them. He said the two men were picked up after Mayor Joseph Alioto held a secret weekend meeting with an eyewitness and "possible accomplice."

The "Zebra" killers, believed to be four black men, have shot and killed 12 white persons in going ballistics tests to determine whether it was used in the Francisco since November. Six San Francisco attacks. But he other whites were wounded in the attacks.

Alioto insisted Tuesday that the slayings here were linked there with 80 other unsolved murders in California. But California

Attorney General Evelle J. Younger disagreed and said the mayor was going "overboard."

The mayor also disclosed that a .32-caliber pistol was under- clear the courtroom after about 15 Indian sympathizers in the room refused to stand when the forces of the village of Wounded Knee, S.D.

time," he said. "Up to this point, we have been."

Commenting on Younger's comments, Alioto said, "Eighty cases where the similarities are clear is itself evidentiary, is itself supportable as evidence."

Younger said in Sacramento, "I have no evidence that the people responsible for the 'Zebra' killings are responsible for any other killings elsewhere in California. There is no evidence of any conspiracy of individuals responsible for 80 murders."

Massive Battle in South Vietnam

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese troops killed 249 command refused to confirm the Cambodian fighting, field reports said South Vietnamese tank, air and artillery drive troops fought at least 26 North Vietnamese troops and seized "a very large number" of rockets.

The sources reported only eight government soldiers killed and 19 wounded in the massive push across South Vietnam's Duc Hue district, which lies along the Cambodian border 35 miles north of Saigon.

Military analysts said the drive, aimed at stopping the Communists from stepping up troop strength in provinces around Saigon, was probably the largest government operation since the Jan. 28, 1973, cease-fire accord.

Military sources said the 6,000-man government force pushed about 2½ miles into the Cambodian Parrot's Beak region Tuesday in the first attack over the border since the cease-fire pact was signed 15 months ago.

The sources said the Communists have used the Parrot's Beak, named because of its appearance on maps, as a sanctuary since the 1972 spring offensive.

The Paris truce agreement forbids military operations by any foreign troops inside Cambodia, but North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces have largely ignored the stipulation.

Although the Saigon military ranger battalions swept over Duc Hue district.

Military sources said the government troops had not planned to cross into Cambodia, but went over the ill-defined frontier during running battles with North Vietnamese troops.

LITTER IS A SLAP IN AMERICA'S FACE. AND YOURS.

Maybe litter around a national park or a famous American landmark seems a long way from your home. But litter is like a cancer.

It spreads. It's a disease. And as more and more of us share this country, it's creeping closer to home. Your home.

And strangely enough, the people who litter often do it with things they need and appreciate most.

Like non-returnable bottles and cans and other packages, that are made for your convenience.

Almost none of us is innocent. Almost all of us litter . . . at least a little. So all of us have to pitch in to stop it. Which makes stopping litter just that much easier. This is one disease we can lick, if we all cut it out . . . and Pitch In!

Agnes Moorehead Dies

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI) — Agnes Moorehead, nominated four times for Academy Awards for film roles but best known as the sharp-tongued Endora in the television series "Bewitched," died Tuesday at Methodist Hospital of an undisclosed illness.

The 67-year-old character actress was under the care of Mayo Clinic doctors and had been hospitalized since April 9.

Miss Moorehead's first role was in Orson Welles' classic movie "Citizen Kane." In 1942 she was nominated for an Academy Award for her role in "The Magnificent Ambersons." She was nominated again in 1944 for "Johnny Parkington," in 1948 for "Johnny Belinda," and 1964 for "Hush, Hush, Sweet Charlotte." All her nominations were for best supporting roles.

Second to acting Miss Moorehead enjoyed her half section of farmland between Zanesville and Cambridge, Ohio. The land was a grant to her great master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and then enrolled at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York. She appeared in a succession of Broadway hits and later toured the vaudeville circuit and began a radio career. She had a recurring role in Lionel Barrymore's "Mayor of the Town."

While many of her film roles were of wispish or drab women, such as in "Jane Eyre," "The Magnificent Ambersons," "Dark Passage," "Showboat" and "Rainbow Valley," she also could be glamorous, as in "Mrs. Parkington."

Miss Moorehead was born Dec. 6, 1906, in Boston, Mass., daughter of a Presbyterian minister. She was married to actor Jack G. Lee for 21 years before their divorce in 1951. In 1953 she married actor Robert Gist but that marriage was dissolved in 1959.

Tennessee Man Is Arrested

NEW PALTZ — A young Tennessee man who left his car in the middle of a New Paltz street early today and went into a bar discovered that bad parking practices can lead to worse things.

New Paltz Village Police said a computer check on the vehicle identification number of the car showed it had been reported stolen from Tennessee April 15.

After finding the driver in a bar on West Chestnut Street, police charged Jimmy Wayne Smith, 23, of Jackson, Tenn., with first degree possession of stolen property.

Arraigned before New Paltz Town Justice Rexford Schneider, Smith was confined in Ulster County Jail in lieu of $5,000 bail to await re-arrest in court Friday night.

"No — it is wrong, that's for sure," Nixon concluded on the clemency question.

The "it is wrong" quote did not take place during the discussion of hush money payments, as Nixon had indicated in previous statements on Watergate. Instead it came during the later discussion of clemency. The President has said, however, that he meant it to apply to the whole cover-up of Watergate.

Among the other major revelations in the tapes were:

—Nixon and top aides H. R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman frequently discussed who approved the Watergate break-in and concluded it had been approved, perhaps inadvertently, by former Attorney General John N. Mitchell when he approved an intelligence plan by G. Gordon Liddy. They had no hard evidence, however, that Mitchell approved the Liddy plan.

—Nixon, Haldeman and Ehrlichman sought to persuade Mitchell and Jeb Stuart Magruder, the deputy Nixon campaign director, to go to prosecutors last April and take responsibility for Watergate.

—Talking with Ehrlichman at one meeting last March, Nixon recounted how he first learned about the Watergate break-in from news reports while he was in Florida. Nixon said he was "surprised."

—At other meetings Nixon said he could not figure out why officials of his campaign staged the break-in since there was little information of value to be gained from the Democrats, especially at a time when polls showed Nixon had a comfortable lead in the campaign.

—Nixon and Dean first discussed Watergate Sept. 15, 1972, and the President praised his counsel for having been "very skillful putting your finger in the leaks that have sprung here and sprung there." (Dean has testified that he got the impression at that meeting that Nixon knew all about the Watergate cover-up, but Nixon insists he did not learn about it until the following March.)

—Looking ahead to his second term in a Sept. 15, 1972, meeting, Nixon threatened to use federal investigators against "those who tried to do us in" during the re-election campaign. In a conversation with Dean, Nixon mentioned using the FBI and the Justice Department, apparently against those whose names were on the White House "enemies" list that Dean had drawn up. Nixon said, "They are asking for it and they are going to get it."

—Nixon agonized over whether to fire Haldeman and Ehrlichman, his closest aides, and sought their advice in mapping Watergate strategy until the day they resigned.

Memoriam

To our baby sister, Erin Lamoreaux, on her third birthday, May 1.

God on His throne in heaven, Looked round at His flowers so fair.

And then sought a blossom on earth

To add to those He had there.

To be part of such heavenly company

The bloom must be pure and sweet,

And the little bud that was chosen

Was Erin, who played at our feet.

We love you,

Glass and aluminum containers will not be accepted for this drive as they may be left at the permanent recycling depot at the Town Landfill during regular landfill hours. Glass must be clean and have all metal rings and caps removed.

Pre-Schoolers Testing Slated

WOODSTOCK screening will be conducted by the PTA Pre-School Screening Committee, Mrs. Dexter Olsen, chairman. The Town of Olive Pre-School Screening Committee, Mrs. Earl Proper, chairman, will conduct the screening at the Bennett School, Saturday, May 11, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The primary aim of the vision screening is the detection of amblyopia or "lazy eye". One eye is doing all the work while the other eye is "lazy". Unless this disparity is caught and corrected before the habits of vision grow rigid — no later than about the age of six — the "lazy-eye" will usually never learn to focus as it should.

The hearing screening is a simple test to determine the child's hearing ability. A series of tones will be presented using earphones and audiometer. Failure to hear these tones may indicate a condition that requires attention.

Neither of these screenings are diagnostic examinations, but will point out the need for further evaluation. They are offered free and children find them fun to do.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices showed little change today as investors took stride a boost in the prime rate by several major banks.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was steady and gainers held only a narrow margin over losers on the New York Stock Exchange.

In economic news, several big banks including Chase Manhattan Bank and Manufacturers Hanover Trust of New York, Mellon Bank of Pittsburgh and First National Bank of Detroit raised their minimum borrowing fee for large corporate customers to 10% from 10 1/2%. Brokers said investors more or less expected the news, and many were relieved that no bank followed Franklin National Bank's example of an 11 per cent prime, the only bank so far to post that high a prime rate.

Chairman Of IBM Confident

ST. Louis (UPI)—The board chairman of International Business Machines Corp. said he is confident IBM will win a reversal of a $259.5 million anti-trust award levied against it.

Chairman Frank T. Cary told the company's annual stockholders' meeting IBM had not engaged in monopolistic practices. A federal judge last year awarded the damages to Telex Corp., which had charged that IBM monopolized the market for so-called peripheral products attached to IBM computers. The award was the largest ever in an antitrust case.

"We are convinced that the Telex decision was based on serious errors of antitrust law and misinterpretation of IBM's business practices," Cary said.

"IBM has competed fairly and within the law and it's on that basis that we are asking for the Telex antitrust decision to be reversed."

U.S. District Court Judge A. Sherman Christensen in Tulsa, Okla., last September, in ruling in favor of Telex, said IBM had engaged in "predatory pricing" to keep Telex out of the peripheral market.

Cary said, "If lowering prices to a 20 per cent profit margin is to be considered predatory, our antitrust laws are being turned upside down."

Directors, meeting after the stockholders' session, declared a regular quarterly dividend of $1.28 per share to stockholders of record May 14, payable June 11.

board chairman of Gulf Oil hands and in those of government. We've had to buy expensive foreign oil and pass the increased costs to the consumer."

He said Gulf plans to bolster its position in the coal, oil shale and nuclear industries to aid President Nixon's announced goal of independence from foreign fuels by the 1980s.

But he said these actions will take from 10 to 15 years if a real dent in the energy shortage is to be made.

B.R. Dorsey told the American Power Conference that events of the last several months have provoked "a very personal reaction for many people, frustration at the service station level."

"Unfortunately, public confidence has been undermined," Dorsey said Gulf, which refactors contributing to a reported 76 per cent profit increase in the first quarter of 1974, has about 400 representatives involved in "a massive public relations campaign to make our story known."

It was also assumed in some of Education has been ruled that since Cunningham is eligible to run for the school board but the question on whether he can serve if elected has still not been settled.

The school board met in special session last week and ruled Cunningham's candidacy valid, board considers Cunningham's

In a "statement of policy," any position that may be directly detrimental to this system and its interest. They see a candidate who is in better touch with what's actually happening in Kingston's Schools. In my experiences, I've come across some really great students, teachers and parents. I feel that these people are entitled to an educational system that should have as much educated logic involved in the decision-making process as possible.

Cunningham also addressed himself to a number of issues in this year's campaign. He was critical of another contender, James Winslow, for Winslow's criticism of the current school board. Stating that the present school board represented a cross section of the community and that most of them were products of the school system, Cunningham said, "I cannot see them taking

KHS Senior Scores Stand

KINGSTON build a new high school in Lake Katrine to replace the 60-year-old facility on Broadway.

"This high school (the old one) has a recommended occupancy of 1,580 students," King said. "Our population is now approximately 2,400. In theory, this school should not be allowed to open in the morning. It is simply overcrowded. I, too, realize that people don't want to spend money, but doesn't their children's safety and education come first," King asked.

"I challenge anyone to spend a day in school with me and then say that a new high school is not desperately needed," King concluded.

New High School Gains Support

KINGSTON Doris E. Mulvin, candidate for a seat on the Board of Education of the Kingston Consolidated School District, has indicated her support for plans to construct a new high school.

"Being unable to come up with a workable alternative that will not hinder the quality of our education," said Mrs. Mulvin. "I cannot fully oppose the new proposed two high school concept for the following reasons:

"The current high school is overcrowded and enrollment in our junior high schools will intensify the problem.

"In addition to being overcrowded, our current high school is in desperate need of major repairs. What do you do with the students while repairs are being made?

"It would be almost impossible to affectively control a single 3,000 student school.

"The proposed new school will not exceed our bonding limit.

"The school district has a moral obligation to the City of

Kahn Seeks Reelection

WEST HURLEY W. Jack Kahn of West Hurley will run for reelection to the Ontario Central School District Board of Education.

Kahn was elected to the board in 1967 for a two year unexpired term and was elected in 1969 to a full five year term. He served as vice president in 1970-71 and was elected president in 1971, the post he now holds.

In announcing his candidacy, Kahn said he wanted to serve again to continue working toward the many goals of the board.

"Attention must be given to the possible overcrowding at the central school," he said. "Efforts to individualize the educational process should continue and effective education must be maintained."

Kahn also said that in the past few years the rapport between the board, community,

Director Issues Warning

"Why take the chance? It isn't worth it."

With those words, Joseph J. Feraca, Sr., director of the Kingston Youth Organization, Inc., warned youngsters recently that criminal acts — even the most minor in nature — carry serious ramifications that can haunt a person throughout his adult life. Committing a crime, said Feraca, in a public interest statement released today, can result in penalties that transcend "the letter of the law," including:

Disgrace and embarrassment to you,

"Grief to your parents and loved ones — they also must share in your disgrace."

"Expense for you and your parents to engage a lawyer and to post bail."

"Confinement in a penal institution pending trial if you or your parents are not able to post bail, or if bail is denied."

"Possible prison terms after trial, perhaps for many years."

"Your behavior and movements will be checked and limited because you will be a person who has to be watched."

Conviction also seriously affects a person's later life, even after he (or she) has been released from prison. Said Feraca, "A criminal record will seriously hamper your ability to get a good job after leaving school. People with criminal records are not usually accepted in the armed forces, federal, state and local governments and the general business world."

Feraca added, "The high rate of juvenile crime is providing unfriendly governments throughout the world with effective propaganda. The millions of dollars that are being spent to combat youth crimes could be used for improvement of our national resources for the benefit of our youth."

Many different acts can be construed as criminal in the eyes of the law, said Feraca: "If you ride in a stolen auto you may, in the eyes of the law, be as guilty as the one who stole it. If you carry a weapon or a switchblade knife you can be sent to prison. If you possess or carry narcotics, you can be sent to a penal institution."

He concluded: "Accept your responsibility as a young adult member of the community. You are wealthy with energy, time and strength. Spend it wisely and make your community a better place to live."

A rummage sale is scheduled for May 31 at 78 Partition Street, Saugerties according to Sonja Gardner.

The club will meet again May 28 at 8 p.m. at Sawyerkill Restaurant.

Professor Discusses Economy of World

The world economic situation was discussed by Ulster County Community College Professor Edward Nadel at a meeting of the Democratic Club of Saugerties held recently at Blue Stone Lodge, Quarryville.

Nadel summarized the world's economic history, and described the various types of working economies. He then traced the U.S. economic situation through the relatively stable years from 1950 through 1965. Inflation, as we know it, was shown through a series of crises culminating in the 1970s with the oil crisis, a decline in production, and excessive taxation.

Nadel pointed out that ours is truly a run-away inflation; we have no mechanism to successfully control it. One of the major problems, it seems, is the lack of political awareness shown by the average citizen. For the future, Professor Nadel predicted a great economic revolution, with a major redistribution of wealth to the now developing nations of the world. The massive changes to come will make the late 1960s look stable, he said.

As a potential cure for the problem, Nadel suggested that groups of concerned citizens, such as consumer's groups and political organizations, begin to put pressure for reform on the government. More people should become involved, should take an active part in controlling their own future. This feeling was echoed by many members of the Saugerties Democratic Club.

Announcement was made of the May 4 dinner dance at the Flamingo Restaurant at which Congressional candidate Nicholas Angell of Putnam County who seeks the Democratic nomination in the 25th District, and Ulster County Legislature Minority Leader Dr. Gerald P. Gorman will be guest speakers.

A rummage sale is scheduled for May 31 at 78 Partition Street, Saugerties according to Sonja Gardner.

The club will meet again May 28 at 8 p.m. at Sawyerkill Restaurant.

Award For City Police

In recognition of its contributions to its professional approach to law enforcement, the Kingston Police Department has been notified that it will receive the second annual J. Edgar Hoover Memorial Award.

The department will be presented with a bronze medal, emblematic of the award, on May 15, during National Police Week. The presentation will be made by the local representative of Ridge Homes, which is sponsoring the award as a community service.

Selection of recipients of the award was made by a panel of judges.

The J. Edgar Hoover Memorial Award is an independent, privately-sponsored award given in recognition of outstanding police departments.

Centerville Bond Issue Thursday

Voters in the Centerville Fire District will go to the polls Thursday night to vote on a $77,000 bond issue for the purchase of three new fire trucks.

Voting will take place at the Centerville Firehouse, Route 212 from 6 to 10 p.m. There are 2,000 families in the fire district.

The bond issue, if approved by a majority of those casting ballots, will go toward the purchase of two new 1,600-gallon tank trucks and one On-Scene First Attack Truck with a capacity of 275 gallons of water.

Firemen are urging the voters to approve the bond issue, noting the increasing population of the district and with it the decrease in available water to fight fires.

Nixon Pays 'Most of' Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Nixon has paid most of his half million dollar tax bill, an administration official said.

The official declined to specify precisely how much of the $467,000 owed by Nixon in back taxes and interest had been in his first installment to the Internal Revenue Service, but said "most of it" was paid.

The IRS ruled that the President had underpaid taxes for his White House years between 1969 and 1972.

Presidential aides said Nixon would have to borrow money to meet the debt, but has returned thousands of dollars in contributions from sympathetic Americans who have read about his tax plight.

Nixon won a two-month delay, until June 15, to pay his 1973 income taxes after the IRS ruling. A White House statement said "any errors" in Nixon's back taxes were the responsibility of those who prepared them for the President.

The President's tax returns over the past several years have been prepared by Frank De Marco and accountant Arthur Blech, both of the Los Angeles area.

DOUGLAS ROWLES

2 Enlist, 3 End Marine Training

Two Ulster County young men have enlisted for duty in the U.S. Marine Corps and will leave for recruit training in August.

Kirk Heiser, one of the enlistees, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heiser of Tillson.

Also enlisting was Gary Graff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Graff of West Hurley. Graff is presently a senior at Onteora High School. He enlisted in the mechanical and electrical program.

Both Heiser and Graff will undergo boot training at Parris Island, S.C.

Three other young men have graduated from Marine Corps boot training at Parris Island. They include:

Fred Hasenflue, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hasenflue of Kingston. Hasenflue, a graduate of Rondout Valley High School, will attend cook's school at Camp Lejeune. Prior to enlisting, Rowles was a student at Kingston High School and had been a member of the Young Marines of Kingston.

James R. McClinton, another Kingston Marine, has reported for duty at Fort Troops, Camp Lejeune, N.C. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John McClinton Sr. of 61 Gage Street.

Local Army Recruiter Signs Up Again

KINGSTON The oath of enlistment was administered by Captain Daniel W. Bloodworth Jr., Sgt. Keiper's area commander, at the Kingston Army recruiting station. Keiper reenlisted for a period of 6 years.

An Army veteran of 12 years, Sgt. Keiper has worked in several Army skills in the United States and Europe. When he entered the Army, Keiper was trained as a Missile crewman and stationed in Detroit. He then moved to Germany to work as an aviation crewman. His other overseas assignments have been in France and Vietnam.

Project 6000...the Reserve Campaign

FLUSHING The local area U.S. Army Reserve Commander, Major General George W. McGrath Jr., has announced the launching of intensive statewide activities as part of a campaign covering most of the states in what has been described by some Army spokesmen as "The most important project to affect the Army Reserve since World War Two."

Whether New York State's U.S. Army Reserve units can maintain their personnel strength in a no-draft environment is being partly tested during the largest personnel drive ever conducted by the U.S. Army Reserve. All New York State U.S. Army Reserve Centers and their hundreds of civilian employees and Reserve units are an integral part of the drive, that all Department of the Army Designated as Project 6000, the campaign runs until May 5. The goal for the Maine to Florida area is 6,000 new recruits during the period, with more than 1,000 to come from New York State.

Major General McGrath, Commander of the 77th U.S. Army Reserve Command, headquartered at Fort Totten, Queens, in launching the drive locally, said the goal of 1,000 new Reservists without prior service can't solve the personnel shortage, but merely stops the downward trend temporarily. The 77th is the nation's largest Reserve Command, with approximately 18,000 Reservists in about 200 units; almost all of them within New York State.

After the current campaign, the 77th will have to continue its intensive recruiting effort.

The Army Reserve is currently striving to maintain adequate personnel strengths without the motivation of the draft. Not only has the draft been eliminated, but a much greater role in our national defense has been assigned to the Active Army. The size of the Active Army has been drastically reduced, placing more importance than ever upon a strong Reserve. Right now the reserve components constitute 45 per cent of the Army's strength. Although equipment readiness has never been better, Reserve enlisted personnel strength since the end of the draft has been dropping seriously. Many units throughout the state may face possible inactivation or relocation if they cannot maintain adequate personnel levels to perform their mission.

Assembly Passes 'Bill of Rights' for Animals

ALBANY maintenance and protection for all domestic animals in New York State. The Assembly has passed and sent to the Senate an Animal Bill of Rights introduced by Assemblyman H. Clark Bell (R-Woodstock) who termed the proposal "... a piece of landmark legislation establishing standards of humane care, treatment of animals, to the Agriculture and Markets Law, establishing terms and conditions for the breeding, maintenance, transportation and of dogs or cats under the age of eight weeks. The bill bans the offering of animals as prizes except for activities approved by the commissioner of agriculture who would be empowered to promulgate rules and regulations to provide for such different purposes. Animals are is great and clearly calls for experimented upon and this legislative action. "The Animal Bill of Rights will in no way affect individuals who have a proper concern for animals, but it will hopefully put the last-buck artists and unscrupulous profit seekers out of business," Bell concluded.

Animal rooms, cages, kennel runs and shipping containers would have to be of sufficient size to protect animals from inclement weather, permit animals to stand up, lie down position. The bill bans the offering of animals as prizes except for activities approved by the commissioner of agriculture who would be empowered to promulgate rules and regulations to provide for such

Kimpel Scores Opponent

MIDDLETOWN State Senate challenger Helmut Kimpel attacked incumbent Republican Sen. Richard E. Schermerhorn for Schermerhorn's reported recent public statements on those missing in action in Vietnam.

"I consider Sen. Schermerhorn's sudden concern for missing prisoners of the Vietnam war cheap political demagoguery," Kimpel said. "To inject himself as a state lawmaker into this issue is political opportunism of the worst kind."

Kimpel who seeks the GOP nomination in the 40th District, accused Schermerhorn of trying to cash in on "legitimate sentiment by area parents who feel the federal government has not done enough to find out the fate of their missing sons."

"Rep. Benjamin Gilman has probably done more than anyone else could have done to find out the whereabouts of the missing soldiers. He is still working hard in that direction," Kimpel said.

"If Schermerhorn wants to do something constructive for the Vietnam veteran, let him do what I have been doing, without fanfare. That is to help disabled veterans to establish an area rehabilitation center for job training," Kimpel said.

"The Vietnam and Korean War veterans would like to know where Schermerhorn was when they asked for the same bonus and educational benefits which World War II veterans received," Kimpel said.

Meanwhile, Robert J. DeSantis, campaign manager for Kimpel, blasted Schermerhorn for acting like "a political chameleon who cannot be trusted by voters of any party."

"Sen. Schermerhorn is a Democrat, turned Republican, who has jumped on the Conservative bandwagon. He is now trying to convey to the public that he is the protégé of Sen. James L. Buckley," DeSantis contended.

Kimpel again blasted Schermerhorn for blocking a bill which would have put local representation on the Metropolitan Transportation Agency, and for voting against a bill passed in the Senate allowing class action suits on environmental grounds by citizens.

Candidate Proposes Program

BINGHAMTON "A Program to Fight Inflation" has been suggested by Michael P. Sloan, candidate for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the 27th District.

At a recent press conference at the Ramada Inn in Binghamton, Sloan proposed that:

• Because strong measures and the support of the American people will be needed, a President, not occupied with the events of Watergate, who can develop stable, long term policies that will benefit the country, will have to occupy the White House.

• Government spending in the public sector, such as housing and job training, must be revised so that the public receives maximum value from each federal program.

• Once inflation is arrested, the federal reserve monetary aggregates (money flows) should grow roughly in a range of two to six per cent a year, so as to maximize employment at stable price levels.

• To avoid a pending wage-price spiral, an effective congressional program of guidelines for prices and wages should be enacted to supplement the previous existing control program.

• The federal government and not the individual taxpayer should absorb the massive increase in oil by granting a tax cut to all U.S. taxpayers.

Farm Fuel Survey in Area

A survey aimed at providing necessary information to assist in the planning of fuel allocations to area farmers is currently under way.

A one-page questionnaire is being sent to all farmers in the area, with the request that it be returned by May 1. The survey is part of a statewide effort by the Cooperative Extension Service, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the Department of Agriculture and Markets.

Any commercial agricultural producer who does not receive the form by April 27 should contact the Ulster County Cooperative Extension office in Kingston.

Workshop on Coronary Care Held at Holiday Inn

Mrs. Joan Cavagnaro, R.N., Kingston Hospital, and Mrs. Margaret Carroll, R.N., Benedictine Hospital, members of the Nursing Education Committee, introduced the instructors to 99 nurses attending the Coronary Care

Workshop conducted by the Mid-Hudson Heart Association April 24 at Kingston's Holiday Inn.

They are Herbert Marx, M.D.; Edmund H. Reppert, M.D., and Christina Haas, R.N., M.A.

Dr. Marx is Associate Professor of Clinical Medicine at Columbia and attending physician in the Department of Medicine at Mary Imogene Bassett Hospital in Coopers-town. With his doctorate degree of Physicians and Surgeons from Columbia, and a Bachelor of Electrical Engineering degree from RPI, he is considered an expert on the topic of his workshop "Electrical Hazards in the Coronary Care Unit."

Dr. Reppert came from New York several years ago to join the staff of Kingston Hospital where he was partially responsible for establishing the Cardiac Diagnostic Unit. He is Director of the Hospital's Department of Medical Education and president of the Mid-Hudson Heart Association. He covered "The Role of Auscultation in the Coronary Unit."

The third workshop, "Heart Attacks and Patient Education" was conducted by Mrs. Haas who is senior staff nurse, formerly in charge of the Coronary Care Unit at New York Hospital. She is a coronary care and cardiac clinical nursing specialist and instructor at Cornell's New York Hospital School of Nursing. She has worked for several years with American Heart Association and is co-director of a cardiac paramedic training course.

A Coronary workshop is offered each year to Mid-Hudson area nurses as part of the Heart Association's program of professional education in an effort to provide the best and latest care for the community.

THE ILLUSIONS, a barbershop quartet from the Mountain Laurel Chorus of Hartford, Conn., will perform in the Colonial City Chapter of Sweet Adelines' show, entitled "Ring-Ling Sister Charm-em Daily Circus," On Saturday, May 11 at 8 p.m. at George Washington School. They are 1973 Region 1 Champions of Sweet Adelines, have been in great demand for performing in their home state of Connecticut, and have travelled extensively throughout other states to perform before barbershop audiences. The quartet includes (l-r) Mary-Jane Crandall, tenor; Charlene Fahey, bass; Florence Sullivan, baritone; Susan Gunas, lead. Tickets for the show may be obtained at Abrams Music Store in Kingston or Saugerties Pharmacy, Simmons Plaza, Saugerties. (A. J. Bruno photo)

Provisional Approval Received

The proposed First Women's Bank and Trust Company of New York city has received provisional approval and is awaiting final approval of its charter from New York State Banking Department officials.

This was revealed to members of Mid Hudson Group, National Association of Bank Women, at a meeting at The Rathskellar in Kingston by Madeline H. McWhinney, president of the proposed bank.

Mrs. McWhinney described her new role as a challenge to women to compete for senior positions and not be content with the usual jobs relegated to women.

She also described the credit worthiness of women as an "untapped resource in the world of finance." Her bank will be particularly interested in selling services to women, although not to women exclusively, she said.

Rummage Sale

A rummage sale sponsored by the Lutheran Church Women of Redeemer Lutheran Church, Wurts and Rogers Street, will be held Wednesday and Thursday, May 8-9. Hours will be 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday and 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Thursday.

20th Century Club

The 20th Century Club will meet Monday, May 13 at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Shellenberger, 44 Clinton Avenue, Kingston.

The April meeting took place at the home of Mrs. John J. Murphy. Mrs. Murphy presented a talk entitled "Night Riders of the Revolution." She explained that all the efforts of alerting the Colonists about the dangers and advancement of the British Army do not belong to Paul Revere alone. A young woman, Sybil Hudington, alerted the Connecticut armies of the advance on Danbury.

Woodstock Weavers

Woodstock Weavers will hold their next monthly meeting Thursday, May 9 at 1:30 p.m. at the Woodstock Guild of Craftsmen, Tinker Street, Woodstock.

Mrs. Robert (Marv) Reid, a New Paltz Guild member, will present slides of The Northwest Canadian Spring, 1973, Conference, through the courtesy of the Vancouver, British Columbia, Spinners and Weavers Guild.

Doris Morehouse of Phenicia was welcomed as a Guild member at the April meeting.

All Guild members and interested area weavers are urged to attend.

Sale Slated

The Ladies Aid of Ponckhockie Congregational Church, corner of Delaware

Avenue and Abury Streets, will hold a rummage sale Thursday and Friday in the recreation room of the church. Hours will be 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and 6:30 to 9 p.m. Thursday; and 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Friday.

General Meeting

A general meeting for the residents of Halcyon Park, Lake Katrine, took place Thursday, April 25 at the Ruby Rod and Gun Club. Alan Griggs discussed the recent survey of park problems and park ideas. Other speakers included Jack and Gloria Montague, Karen Blocker, and Tom Leonard. Mosquitoes and ecology were discussed by Frank Miller of the Ulster County Health Department.

Poppv Month

American Legion Auxiliary members, Lamouree-Hackett Post No. 72 Saugerties, will be selling poppies during the entire month of May. The crepe-paper flower has been painstakingly fashioned by disabled veterans in workshops across the State of New York. Poppies are sold in honor of those who died in both World Wars and the Korean and Vietnam conflicts.

Musical Society

The monthly meeting of the Musical Society of Kingston will take place Wednesday, May 8 at the home of Mrs. Roland Tonnesen, Mt. Marion, at 8:15 p.m.

Square Dance

The Do-C-Do Square Dance Club will have a dance Saturday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Hagen-Spackenkill School in Poughkeepsie. A workshop for new graduates will take place at 7:30 o'clock. Bob Paris will be calling. All club-level dancers are invited.

Entertainer Named For Lions' Event

GEORGE SANDS, mentalist, presently performing at the Granit Hotel, will be featured at the Town of Ulster Lions Club's annual Ladies Night Saturday at White Eagle Hall, Kingston. Sands, an accomplished performer, specializes in magic, comedy, and telepathy. Cocktails will be available at 6 p.m. with a roast beef dinner slated for 7 o'clock. A short program honoring the wives of Lions members is also planned. Music for dancing will be provided by Joseph Wisneski from Poughkeepsie.

UCCC Alumni Association at Exposition

Members of the newly formed Alumni Association at Ulster County Community College are at the College booth in the Lions Club Exposition, State Armory, Kingston, to dispense information about the organization.

Expo, which opened Tuesday night, will be held through Saturday.

Alumni Association representatives will be seeking to sign up new members. Anyone who has ever attended Ulster is eligible to join.

Persons signing up will be eligible also to win one of three lifetime memberships. The membership campaign for the Alumni Association is being conducted by the group's membership committee headed by Dick Alexander, Kingston resident and computer programmer for IBM.

Also serving on the committee are Bonnie Burns of Kingston, who is employed in the Financial Aids Office at State University College, New Paltz and Mrs. Carol DiBenedetto of Saugerties, a professional assistant in the UCCC Computer Center.

The committee is currently engaged in updating and compiling data on persons who attended and/or graduated from UCCC.

Anyone interested in joining the Association may contact Mr. Alexander at 92 Lipton Street, or J. C. Haviland in the Community Relations Office at the College.

Keith F. Jordan of Kingston is president of the Association.

Guest Speaker

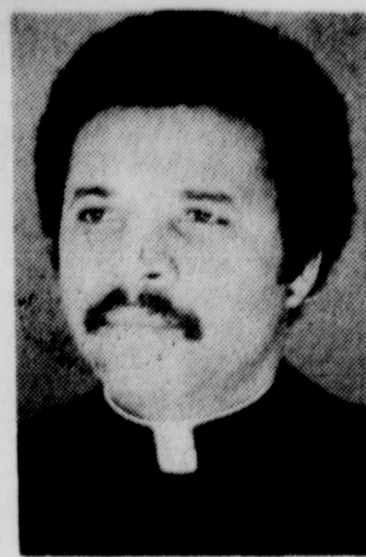

The 12th annual Mother-Daughter Communion Breakfast sponsored by the Altar-Rosary Society of St. Peter's parish in Rosendale will be held at Williams Lake Hotel in Rosendale Sunday, May 5 after the Corporate Communion Mass at 9 a.m. in the Church. The Rev. Jerome Moody CSSR of Esopus will celebrate the Mass and be guest speaker at the breakfast. His topic will be "Women in the Church."

Father Moody was born in New York but raised in the Virgin Islands. He attended the Redemptorist High School, St. Mary's Seminary, Pennsylvania, and continued his studies at Redemptorist College Seminary in Suffield, Conn. After completing his education for the priesthood at Mt. St. Alphonsus Seminary in Esopus last June, Father Moody returned to his home parish in the Virgin Islands to be ordained a Redemptorist priest among his family and friends.

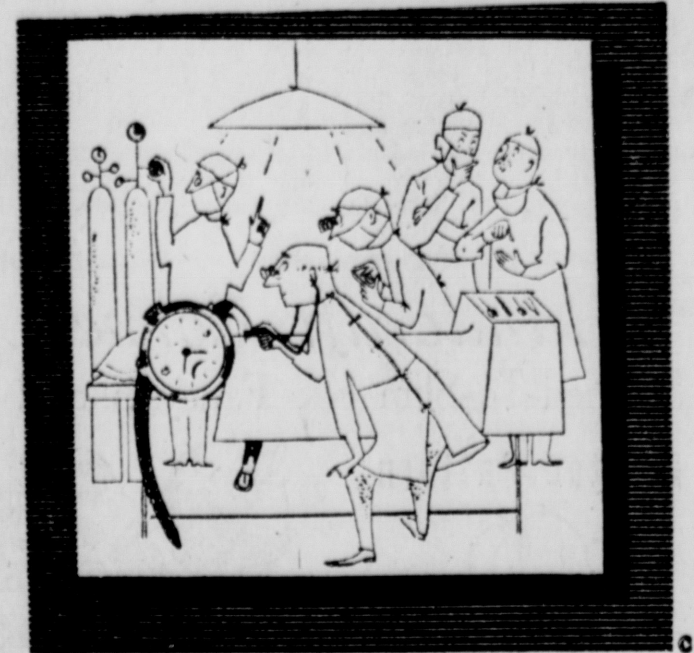

During his summers, "Father Jerry," as he is known to most of the young people, has worked in inner-city programs in Redemptorist parishes in Hartford, Conn., Baltimore, Md., and Buffalo. Last September, Father returned to Esopus and has spent much of his first year in the priesthood, as he did for the previous three years, working in Confraternity of Christian Doctrine and other programs in St. Peter's parish in Rosendale. At present he is awaiting final word on what he hopes will be an inner-city appointment.

Reservations for the breakfast should be made immediately with Miss Vera Lenz of High Falls, Mrs. Lottie Burns, Mrs. Catherine O'Leary, both of Rosendale, or Mrs. A. M. Tochtermann of Kingston. This annual event is not exclusive to mother-daughter couples only but open to all women, young and old.

Post: Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

© 1974 The Emily Post Institute, Inc.

Distributed by

Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. Robert Shackford of Coronado, California.

Dear Mrs. Post: When I moved from a large home to an apartment, I gave away all excess china, etc., as there just wasn't enough room.

Recently, I entertained 40 at a cocktail party. The guests raved about the food I had prepared, but one guest stated that I had "ruined" the whole thing by using small paper plates. I served "finger foods," and I don't have forty china plates.

Was it in bad taste to use white, plastic-covered paper plates?

Margaret Shackford
Dear Mrs. Shackford: There is a very good Spanish expression which, translated, means "The best is the enemy of the good." Too many people feel they can't entertain at all because they don't have enough of this or nice enough that, and they don't feel they can spend the money to buy or rent it.

I admit that if you could have rented or borrowed nice china plates for your party, it would have been ideal. But you gave a lovely party; you delighted your friends with delicious food and drinks; you gave them a good time (the aim of every good hostess); and how paper plates could "ruin" the party, I cannot see!

In this day and age of high prices, unemployment and frustrations, we need to give each other a good time, and an excuse to forget our troubles. It is the friendship, the gaiety, and the relaxation of a party that make it a success — not the "equipment." So don't worry about that one critical guest. If anyone should be criticized, it is she, for her rudeness to a gracious hostess.

"So You're Planning to Give a Shower." This booklet tells you everything you need to know for a bridal shower, a welcome party for a new neighbor, the local minister or anyone else. To get a copy, send thirty-five cents in coins to cover booklet and mailing expenses, to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of The Daily Freeman.

'Glass Menagerie' Scheduled

Independent Productions will present "The Glass Menagerie" by Tennessee Williams Thursday and Friday at 8:30 p.m. at Ulster County Community College in Stone Ridge.

Heading the cast will be Nancy Sack as the fiercely proud mother and Al Steigerwald as the son Tom who yearns for an adventurous release from routine and poverty. Ramona Harkin will play the part of Laura, the delicate and crippled sister for whom Tom is expected by his mother to produce a suitor. A stand-up comedian-turned-art teacher, Ken Brett, will take the part of the gentleman caller whom Tom brings home to dinner.

The director, Lou Meressi, teaches at the Poughkeepsie Middle School and has extensive experience in Marist College dramatic productions, such as "Incident at Vichy," "Come Blow Your Horn," and "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Steigerwald, president of Independent Productions, and Nancy Sack both won acting awards with Independent Productions entries in the State Theatre Festival.

Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Two Divorces Catch Her in the Middle

DEAR ABBY: My brother left his wife and five children and got a divorce. My close friend subsequently divorced her husband. It soon came out that my brother and my friend had been seeing each other for a few years before their divorces. They are presently living together and plan to be married soon. I hope they will find the happiness together they lacked in their former marriages, but there is a problem:

I have always been very close to my brother's wife, and I adore the children. My brother says that his ex-wife is no longer a part of the family, and that if I want to see his children I should do so when he has them for visitation. Brother says that if his ex-wife is invited to any family gatherings, he and his wife-to-be will not come.

I don't want to have to choose whom to invite to my home for a family affair, but I am told that since my brother is closer to me than his ex-wife, he should not have to stay away. During the holidays, I invited everyone and left the decision up to those who wanted to come, but there was side-choosing and ill feelings, so I cancelled the party. My own children are being denied associating with their cousins, and remaining neutral is not easy. Please help.

IN THE MIDDLE
DEAR IN: Your brother divorced his wife, you didn't, so don't let him dictate whom you shall have in your home. Ask everyone you want, and if Brother doesn't want to come, let him stay away.

DEAR ABBY: Several of us have a question to which we have been unable to find an answer.

When a married man is invited to be the guest speaker for a women's club (business or social), what about his wife?

The affair is usually held in the evening at a motel or hotel beginning with a dinner. What is the speaker's wife supposed to do? Sit home and eat alone while her husband is being fussed over by a bunch of women?

I feel that if a club can't afford two meals, they should get their speakers from the membership.

Also, what if the meeting is out of town over a weekend? Don't you think the speaker's wife should be invited too? Please set us straight on this.

A CLUB DIVIDED
DEAR CLUB: It is customary when inviting a speaker to let him know that his wife is welcome, too. If this courtesy is omitted and the speaker wants his wife to be included, he should say so. Weekends? Absolutely — if the budget permits.

DEAR ABBY: To the lady who was 30 and recently divorced and wanted to know where to go to meet men. Here's what I did at age 36 and newly divorced:

I called around to all the churches (all denominations) and got information on all the religious and social gatherings the churches sponsored for singles in my age group. Then I made a list and took turns visiting all the churches. It took a lot of courage to go to so many strange groups alone, but it paid off because at the Unitarian church I met just the man for me. We have been happily married for 15 years.

HAPPY IN HOUSTON
DEAR HAPPY: Some people go to church to pray. Others go to pray they meet someone. To each his own.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Hints From Heloise

By HELOISE CRUISE

Hey Folks:

I swear to you I do believe that I have lost my last marble...

And if I haven't — please tell me why a jar that says "contents one quart," won't measure out to be 4 cups! All my cook books say a quart equals 4 cups.

But it doesn't...

When I take jars that say "one quart" on them and measure water in them (and with two different kinds of measuring cups), I come up with 4 and 1/2 cups.

I have tried this with three different kinds of fruit jars too.

I caught this mistake trying to make a batch of pie fillings for six pies. Instead of measuring out 12 cups of milk, I just grabbed a quart fruit jar and filled it three times. I knew immediately that the recipe wasn't right. Way too watery and thin.

Then I measured and sure enough I had a cup and a half too much liquid.

Now, you all remember this when you do your canning.

Always use standard measuring cups, not commercial containers when following a recipe.

And you should have seen my pickles last year! And chowchow! They were so sour people's lips puckered when they ate 'em.

Know why? A darn quart of vinegar isn't a quart! And for that matter it isn't even 32 fluid ounces as it says. It is 36 ounces.

My recipe called for two quarts of vinegar and being a brainless wonder, I just poured two quarts of the sour stuff in which was exactly one whole cup too much. How does that grab you? It sure didn't me.

For family gatherings and guild suppers I am always asked to bring my famous potato salad. The quart bottle of mayonnaise isn't a quart (or four cups). It's four and a half cups, my loves. Measure it and see for yourselves.

Now let's get down to pints. Same thing. When a recipe calls for one pint of mayonnaise don't just grab a new jar and dump. A pint is two cups — and another additional half.

And if any of you will drop me a line and tell me why a quart of mayonnaise measures four and a half cups when it plainly states one quart on the jar, I will be forever grateful.

love to you,
Heloise

Dear Heloise:
When I defrost my refrigerator, I put a large bath towel in the tray beneath the ice cubes and one in the bottom of the refrigerator and defrost all night.

Then in the morning all I do is lift out the tray with the towel and gently carry it to the sink.

Then the refrigerator is so easy to clean.

Fondly Rachel

A Versatile Fruit Pastry

Here is a new, inexpensive, Springtime version of a classic European fruit pastry so often served as dessert, or as a special favor for coffee-break or teatime.

The easy-to-make filling gets its luscious full-fruit flavor from canned Hawaiian pineapple and brown sugar briefly simmered together. The special crust for Pineapple Lattice Torte is deliciously rich and tender. Its buttery flavor lightly enhanced by fresh lemon peel, pineapple syrup and almond extract.

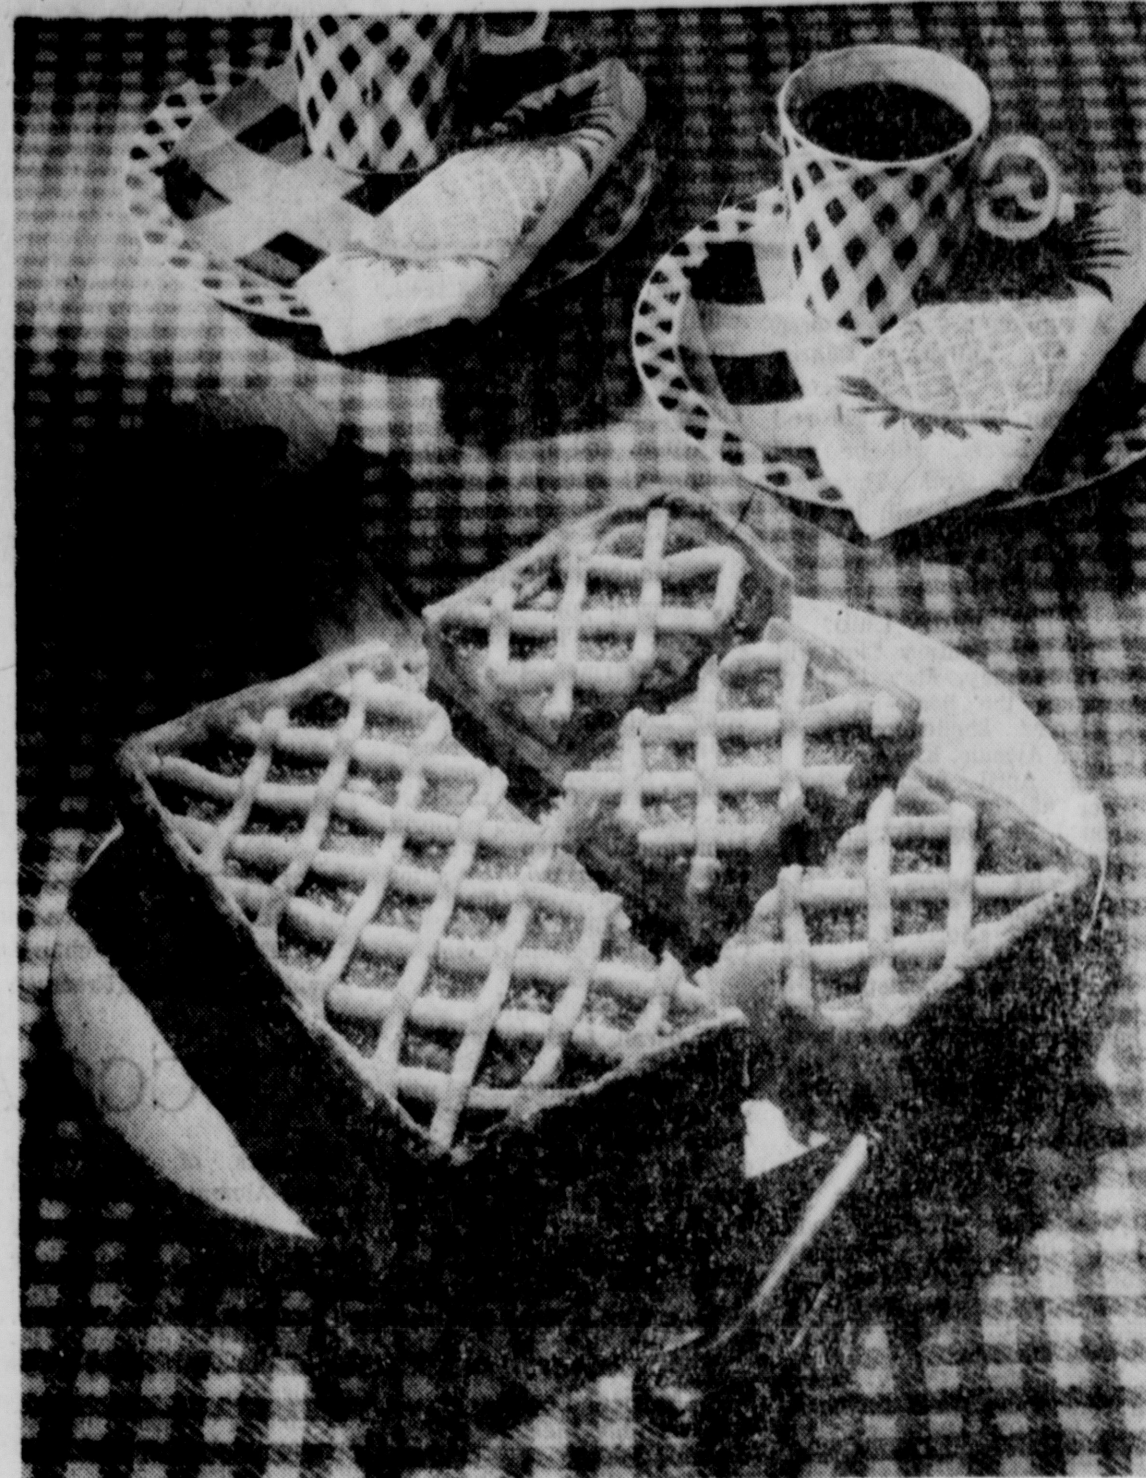

Quick and easy recipes like this are being sought by creative cooks who seek new ways to dress-up old favorites without adding to their cost.

In main dishes, salads, and breads canned pineapple is helping to meet this need.

Pineapple Lattice Torte

One (13 and one-fourth ounce) can crushed pineapple
One-fourth cup brown sugar (packed)
One and one-half tablespoons cornstarch
Two cups sifted all-purpose flour
One-third cup granulated sugar
One-half teaspoon baking powder
One-half teaspoon salt
Three-fourths cup butter or margarine
One large egg, separated
One-fourth teaspoon almond extract
One-fourth teaspoon grated lemon peel

Drain off and reserve two tablespoons syrup from pineapple. Combine remainder of undrained pineapple in a saucepan with brown sugar and cornstarch. Cook, stirring, until mixture boils and thickens; cool. Resift flour with granulated sugar, baking powder and salt. Cut in butter to make fine crumbs. Beat egg yolk lightly with the two tablespoons reserved pineapple syrup, almond extract and lemon peel. Sprinkle over surface of flour mixture, and mix to a stiff dough. Set aside about one-third of the dough for top of torte. Shape remainder into a square and roll out on lightly floured board to an 8 and one-half inch square. Fit into eight inch square baking pan, bringing dough up sides of pan about one-fourth inch. Spread pineapple filling over top. Roll reserved dough to a rectangle about 5 x 10 inches, and cut into one-fourth inch strips. Carefully lift strips onto top of torte using a long spatula, and make a lattice over top. Finish with

"PINEAPPLE LATTICE TORTE" is a new version of a classic European fruit pastry. Its luscious full-fruit flavor comes from canned Hawaiian pineapple used in the filling. (Moss Photography) strips of dough around sides of pan, to cover ends of lattice. Beat egg white until foamy, and brush lightly over pastry strips. Bake in center of moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 40 to 45 minutes, until lightly browned. Cool before cutting. Cut into squares or rectangles. Serve plain (or, with whipped cream, if desired). Makes 6 to 9 servings.

Costello's 'Minor Adjustments' Clicked

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — There were a lot of doubters hanging around the Milwaukee Arena who conceded the National Basketball Association title to Boston on the basis of the Celtics' 98-83 win in the first game of the championship series against the Bucks.

They heard Larry Costello, the Milwaukee coach, talk about doing something to counter the Boston pressure defense. Costello talked about making a "minor adjustment" and many experts scoffed at the idea.

But game two opened Tuesday night and Costello's "adjustment" was unveiled.

It resulted in a 105-96 Milwaukee overtime win to even the best-of-seven series at one game each.

It resulted in a 105-96 Milwaukee overtime win to even the best-of-seven series at one game each.

The adjustment itself consisted of getting the ball to Oscar Robertson, then sending the other four players up court and letting Robertson bring the ball up by himself.

"That adjustment was the key to the ball game," Bucks assistant coach Hubie Brown said. "A lot of people said you can't make an adjustment to beat the press but I guess we showed them."

The end result of the Costello move was to enable the Bucks to build a big enough lead so that Milwaukee could stand off the most furious Celtics rally. The big margin was needed, too, as Boston came back to force an overtime.

With 11 seconds left and the score 90-90, Dave Cowens had the ball at the top of the free throw circle. He drove to the basket to his right and leaped in the air. The ball held high in his right hand.

He released a little hook shot from only three feet away and the ball headed toward the basket. But Kareem Abdul-Jabbar soared well into the rafters of the Milwaukee Arena to gently tap the ball to the floor where Ron Williams picked it up and the game went into overtime.

In the extra period, with the score 98-96, Cornell Warner became a hero.

The Bucks took the ball in bounds from midcourt and were set to run a play for Robertson. But Warner took the pass, noticed the lane was open and sped down the center of it, skied high above the basket and dunked the ball. He was fouled by Dave Cowens and made the free throw, giving the Bucks a five-point lead with only 34 seconds left.

"I saw the lane clear and just headed for it with everything I had," Warner said of his big shot.

Abdul-Jabbar, who led all scorers with 36 points, played as if in a frenzy in the closing minutes.

While the Bucks were overjoyed with the win, Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn, wasn't too disappointed with the end result.

"Look," he said, "I feel proud we came here and won the first game in good style and took them to overtime in the second game. We didn't play our best game tonight and they played very well."

The series now shifts to Boston for the third and fourth games Friday night and Sunday. The fifth game will be in Milwaukee Tuesday night.

Julius Erving The Best?

UNIONDALE, N.Y. (UPI) — Is Julius Erving the best forward in the history of basketball?

That was the question dominating conversations in both locker rooms after the 6-foot-7 Dr. J staged a virtuoso 47-point performance to give the New York Nets an 89-85 victory over the Utah Stars Tuesday night in the opening game of their best-of-seven American Basketball Association championship series.

Elgin Baylor's name came up and so did John Havlicek, Rick Barry and Dave DeBusschere. All were or are great ballplayers capable of spectacular games and certainly among the very best.

But as far as the Stars, Nets and most of the people watching Tuesday night's game were concerned, "Dr. J" is the best ever.

"Baylor was the best for a longer time," Nets' Coach and NBA veteran Kevin Loughery said. "But Doc is a better all-around player than Baylor ever was. Doc can do everything Baylor could do on offense and more and he plays much better defense."

Certainly rookie forward Bruce Seals was no match for Erving in the first half. Erving frustrated Seals by hitting jumpers from as far out as 20 feet and by spinning around him for spectacular layups and dunk shots. Erving had 26 of his points in the first half on 12-of-14 shots.

Wise took over for Seals in the second half but couldn't do much better as Erving scored 21 more points.

New York had led most of the game but Jimmy Jones' hot hand gave Utah a 78-73 lead with 6:46 remaining. Then Erving switched to guard him and Jones managed only one free throw.

Gerald Govan, 6-foot-11, filled in adequately for Zemo Beatty, out with a severe groin injury, but the Stars were unable to keep the Nets from dominating the boards. New York outrebounded Utah, 54-44, as rookie forward Larry Kenon took down 20.

Both the Stars and Nets were off their game offensively. Utah, pressed to seven games by Indiana after winning the first three, seemed tired, especially in the second quarter when New York moved ahead by 12 points. Except for Erving, who finished with 19-of-29, and Kenon, who hit 9-of-15 shots, the Nets shot poorly, hitting only 30 percent.

Loughery blamed the nine-day layoff the Nets had after beating Kentucky in four straight for his team's poor shooting.

Jones finished with 25 points for Utah while Wise had 20.

Agitate Bad News For Field

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Trainer Jimmy Jimenez says, "I don't know if Agitate has run his best race yet."

And that could be bad news for a host of other trainers and owners who hope to win Saturday's 100th Kentucky Derby.

The Pennsylvania-bred colt who has campaigned in California is one of few 3-year-olds in the United States this year to go under 1:49 for 1 1/2 miles.

Agitate won the Bradbury Stakes by six lengths in 1:48 2/5, won the California Derby in 1:48 4/5 and also broke 1:49 when he finished third, less than a length out of first, in the Santa Anita Derby behind Destroyer, a Derby hopeful, and Aloha Mood, not in the Derby.

To make the Kentucky Derby his sixth victory in seven starts, Agitate, who did not race as a 2-year-old, will have to beat about 21 other 3-year-olds.

Entries for the 1 1/4-mile Derby at Churchill Downs will be made Thursday. A 22-horse field would equal the record set in 1928, when Reigh Count won, and would mean a gross purse of $319,000, with $267,500 to the winner.

Post time is 5:30 p.m. EDT. CBS will televise from 5 p.m.-6 p.m.

Agitate's toughest competition could come from the Woody Stephens-trained entry of Seth Hancock's Judger and John M. Olin's Cannonade and the Sigmund Sommer-owned pair of Rube The Great and Accipiter.

Judger, winner of the Florida Derby and Blue Grass Stakes, will be ridden by Laffit Pincay Jr., who rode Agitate in all of his races except the California Derby. Pincay is committed to ride Judger, so the great Bill Shoemaker will ride Agitate.

Cannonade, winner of the Stepping Stone Purse, will be ridden by Angel Cordero Jr., while Miguel A. Rivera will be aboard Rube The Great, first in divisions of the Gotham and Wood Memorial, and Angel Santiago will ride Accipiter.

Other probabilities, and their riders, included Lexico, Gustavo Avila; Set N' Go, Bill Davida; J.R.'s Pet, Darrell McHargue; Destroyer, Ismael Valenzuela; Sir Tristram, Bill Hartack; Pat McGroder, Tommy Barrow.

Bobby Ussery was expected to ride Little Current, while trainer Joe DiAngelo was still looking for a rider for Sharp Gary.

Spectre of WFL Haunts Bengals

CINCINNATI (UPI) — Chuck Studley, as assistant coach of the Cincinnati Bengals, testified Tuesday that if several veteran Bengals players sign future contracts with World Football League teams, it would have a "devastating and catastrophic effect on our team."

"We are a contender now," said Studley, but if several players signed to jump, "our chances would be nil—as they say we would have two chances, slim and none."

Studley was subpoenaed in the Bengals-WFL suit in U.S. District Court here. The Bengals seek a temporary restraining order to stop the new WFL from signing players under contract to the Bengals.

Two players already have signed to play in the WFL after their Bengals contracts expire—Bill Bergey for the Virginia Ambassadors in 1976 and Steve Chomyszak for the Philadelphia Bell in 1975.

Five other Bengals players—Rufus Mayes, Pat Matson, Bob Johnson, Bob Trumpy and Dave Lewis—testified Tuesday they had been in some type of contract with WFL teams.

Studley was asked what would happen to the Bengals if those five joined the other two in signing future WFL contracts.

Bruins Kayo Hawks, 4-2

Rangers Trail, 3-2

By The Associated Press
And then there were three. The Boston Bruins, behind a tie-breaking, third-period goal by young Gregg Sheppard in the final two minutes, defeated the Chicago Black Hawks 4-2 Tuesday night, won their Stanley Cup semifinal series four games to two and advanced to the National Hockey League championships.

Meanwhile, the Philadelphia Flyers moved a giant step closer to filling the other berth in the championship set by beating the New York Rangers 4-1 and taking a 3-2 lead in their semifinal.

Bruins Coach Bep Guidolin says he has no preference who makes the finals against Boston.

"I don't care who we go up against," said Guidolin. "Whoever you are going to meet is going to be good."

Sheppard broke a 2-2 tie with just 1:49 left in the game with his ninth playoff goal, taking a pass from Dallas Smith and beating Hawks goalie Tony Esposito. Phil Esposito wrapped it up with an empty net tally 33 seconds later.

The Rangers dominated the first period and the start of the second, but then Philadelphia took charge.

Flyers Coach Fred Shero said Terry Crisp, the Flyers' hustling center, was screaming on the bench during the second period about going all out.

Shero sent Crisp into the game, and the Flyers dominated the remainder of the action with their finest display of skating since the opening game of the series.

New York Coach Emile Francis said his team let the game slip away when it had a chance to break it open in the first period.

Pete Stenowski scored the only goal of the first period at 6:16 to give New York a 1-0 lead. Bladen tied it at 6:39 of the middle period, then MacLeish put Philadelphia ahead with a long shot past goalie Ed Giacomin, with Gary Dornhoefer effectively screening Giacomin.

The Flyers' Dave Schultz broke a record in the first period when he amassed 17 penalty minutes to boost his total for nine playoff games to 96. The old NHL mark was 80 minutes served by John Ferguson of Montreal in 1969 during 14 games against New York, Boston and St. Louis.

In the World Hockey Association, Guy Trottier scored three goals and Gilles Gratton came through with some pressure relief goaltending, helping the Toronto Toros to a 7-6 decision over the Chicago Cougars and a 2-2 tie in their semifinal playoffs. The fifth game will be played tonight in Toronto.

The Toros broke out to a 7-4 lead with five goals in the second period, two of them by Trottier. But after Rick Morris scored for Chicago at 3:22 of the third period, Toronto Coach Billy Harris decided to replace 40-year-old Les Binkley with Gratton.

Houston will try to wrap up tonight against the Minnesota Fighting Saints at Minneapolis. The Aeros lead that best-of-seven semifinal 3-2.

Maroon Tennis Varsity In 5-0 Zip of Ketcham

WAPPINGERS "Boyd led Silberstein 6-1 at one stage but apparently relaxed too much," Hunter pointed out. "But he pulled his game together in time to salvage the match. I think he learned a good lesson for the future."

Garth Galyon and Ron Cicio polished off Kraehmer and Chuck Kenny in the No. 2 doubles match, 8-1. "This was another fine effort," said Coach Hunter, who obviously spent a pleasant and relaxing afternoon in Wappingers.

Kingston was scheduled to meet Newburgh Free Academy at Newburgh today and host Our Lady of Lourdes in a DCSL match Thursday.

"Actually, Southard and McCabe beat Ketcham's No. 1 and No. 2 players," Coach Hunter explained. "Sum is their No. 1 singles performer but has been hurt and was kept out of the singles competition."

Dan Ingalsbe of Kingston routed Steffen Kraehmer 8-1 and Kevin Boyd held off Steve Silberstein 8-5 to complete the singles rout.

Hank Aaron Park?

ATLANTA (AP) — A proposal to rename Atlanta Stadium in honor of home run king Hank Aaron of the Atlanta Braves is expected to encounter little opposition from members of the Atlanta-Fulton County Recreation Authority.

The proposal was made Monday by Mayor Maynard Jackson.

NFL Players' Director Blasts Rozelle Action

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The executive director of the National Football League Players' Association says Commissioner Pete Rozelle acted irresponsibly when he fined eight San Diego Chargers players for alleged drug use without a hearing before an impartial arbitrator.

Ed Garvey, the NFLPA executive director, urged the players not to pay the fines and said the association would not sign a new contract with the league without a clause to protect players against such abuses.

Calling Rozelle's action "McCarthyism at its best," Garvey told a news conference Tuesday the NFLPA has listed 57 demands it wants in its new contract, but that the league has not yet replied.

"Pete Rozelle does not understand the meaning of due process," Garvey said. "Rozelle makes up the rules without consulting the players, hires a private police force to enforce those rules, determines and certainly no use of any "hard drugs" such as heroin or cocaine. He said Rozelle had no right to arbitrarily fine the players unless there was proof of illegal use of drugs.

"He has demonstrated a shocking disregard for the lives of the men involved as well as their future and their families' future," he said.

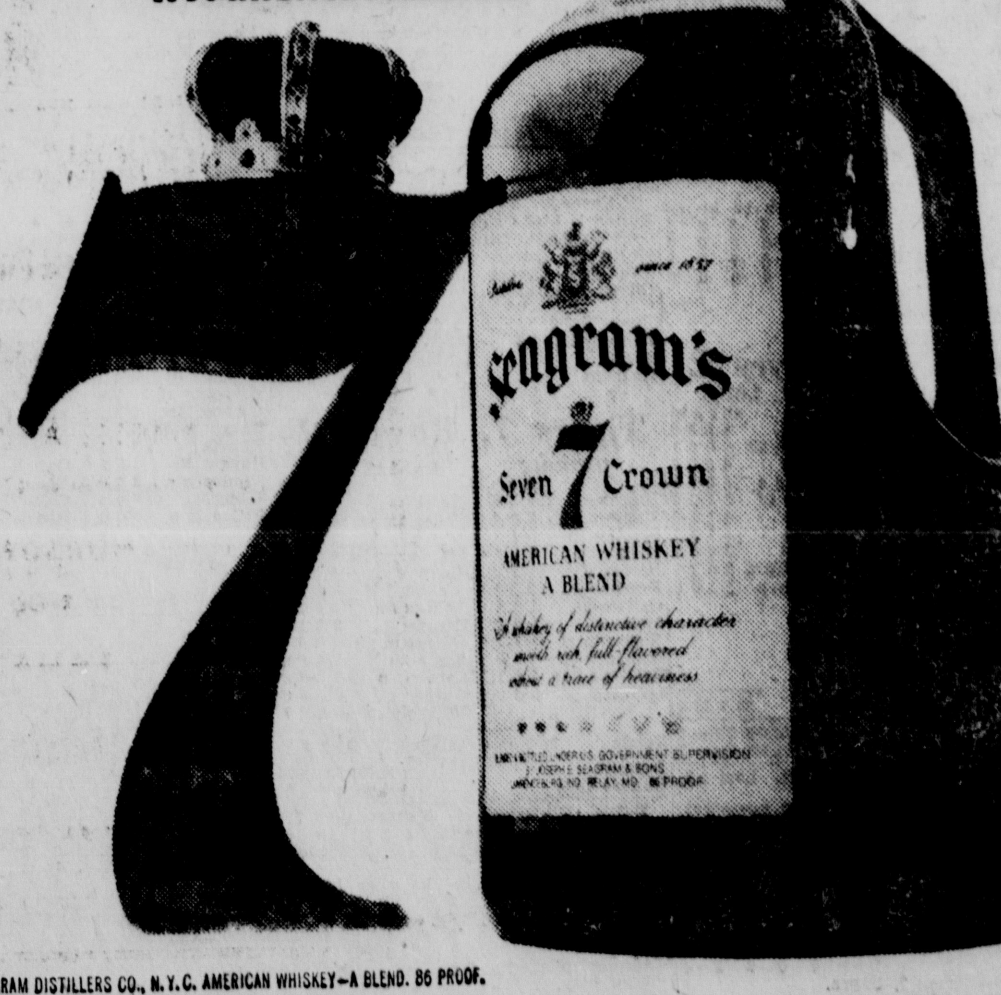

Garvey said for some weeks he has been urging Rozelle to work jointly with the NFLPA to draw up drug use guidelines but that Rozelle had rejected the offer, saying he would act on his own.

He said the NFLPA has scheduled a drug conference sometime in early June where experts in various fields will discuss the problems of drug use by football players.

Garvey also said Charger owner Eugene Klein, in urging Congress require NFL players to take urinalysis tests, had "placed every player in the NFL under a cloud of suspicion, and we will not tolerate it."

Yankees' Turn to Take Bow

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

It's the New York Yankees' turn to take a bow for their controversial seven-player trade with the Cleveland Indians.

The Yankee management was criticized in its own clubhouse when the deal was announced last Friday night and it didn't help when the Indians promptly went on a five-game winning streak.

But the swap paid its first big dividend for the Yankees Tuesday night when Chris Chambliss, the key man acquired by New York, hit the Yankees have been doing so San Francisco 5.

game-winning homer in a 4-3 win," said Chambliss after the victory over Vida Blue and the World Champion Oakland A's. Blue, now 0-3, carried a 2-1 lead into the eighth inning but straight since the deal by the Yankees went ahead, 3-2, beating Minnesota, 8-3, Chicago, 8-3, Baltimore, 2-1, California, 16-6, Detroit, 7-2, Texas, 12-10, in other American League games.

Felt No Pressure

"I wasn't feeling any pressure because some of the fellows the Indians got from the Yankees have been doing so San Francisco 5.

Bill Russell, who had tripled, to 12-10, Detroit took Kansas City, 7-2, Cleveland defeated Minnesota, 8-3, and Chicago topped Baltimore, 2-1.

Phils 6, Giants 5:

Mike Schmidt cracked a ninth-inning double to snap a 4-1 tie and Bill Robinson drove in the deciding run as the Phils ended a six-game losing streak with a win over the Giants.

Miller Picks Up Win

Bob Miller, who picked up a win in relief, said in disbelief, "I've just never seen to do things the easy way."

Steve Garvey's three-run homer with two out in the eighth allowed the Dodgers to tie the score at 6-6. Garvey's fifth homer continued a jinx that has seen southpaw Jerry Koosman fail to win in Los Angeles since April 11, 1968.

Koosman's wildness cost him in the eighth. He walked Dave Lopes and Cey to set up Garvey's homer. The blast got Dodger starter Tommy John, 5-0, off the hook and kept him unbeaten in his last 10 decisions.

In other games, Philadelphia edged San Francisco, 6-5. St. Louis defeated Atlanta, 5-2. San Diego downed Montreal, 2-1. Houston stopped Chicago, 4-2, and Cincinnati at Pittsburgh was rained out.

In the American League,

California routed Boston, 16-6. New York beat Oakland, 4-3. Texas outslugged Milwaukee, Mel Stottlemyre went 8-2-3 in his last three starts, raising his record to 5-1 with the last-out relief aid of Sparky Lyle, who earned his third save. Bill Sudakis also homered for the Yankees while Reggie Jackson and Bill North connected for the A's.

Indians 8, Twins 3:

Former Yankees Fritz Peterson and Fred Beene combined in an eight-hitter for the Indians. Charlie Spikes, another ex-Yank, had a two-run single, stretching his hitting streak to 19 games. It was the big blow of a four-run fifth inning which clinched the game for Cleveland. Bobby Darwin drove in three runs with a pair of homers for the Twins.

White Sox 2, Orioles 1:

Ron Santo, acquired from the crosstown Cubs last winter, hit his first AL homer with Ken Henderson aboard in the seventh inning, lifting Stan Bahnsen to his third victory. Bahnsen went the distance, allowing seven hits and striking out five. Jim Palmer, the AL's Cy Young Award winner in 1973, suffered his first setback against two wins.

Angels 16, Red Sox 6:

Bob Oliver drove in four runs with a sacrifice fly, double and triple and Ellie Rodriguez and Dave Chalk drove in three runs each for the Angels, who got a weird pitching performance from Nolan Ryan. Ryan went the distance, yielding six hits and seven walks plus two hit batsmen while striking out 15.

Doug Griffin suffered a

"severe concussion" when hit in the head by one of Ryan's fast balls and spent the night in the intensive care unit of Boston's Hahnemann Hospital. Dick McAuliffe and Cecil Cooper homered for the Red Sox.

Tigers 7, Royals 2:

Mickey Lolich, beaten in his first four decisions, pitched an eight-hitter for his first victory. Aurelio Rodriguez knocked in two runs with a double and two singles to lead a 15-hit Detroit attack which tagged Paul Splitteroff with his second loss. Fran Healy homered for the Royals.

Rangers 12, Brewers 10:

Jeff Burroughs and Jim Spencer led off a six-run eighth inning with homers as the Rangers overcame a 7-6 deficit to beat the Brewers. Cesar Tovar and Pedro Garcia also homered in the 25-hit affair. Jim Bibby went eight innings to win his fifth game.

Deal Is Stalled

For Canuck Sale

VANCOUVER (AP) — Coleman E. Hall, president of the Vancouver Hockey Club, said today there has not been any transaction consummated which would result in the sale of the National Hockey League Canucks.

Hall, commenting on reports that a Canadian group had completed plans to purchase the Canucks from Minneapolis-based Medior for $8.4 million, said a last-minute development stalled the proposed deal.

"The transaction has not been consummated," Hall said from his Vancouver office. "As of early Tuesday morning we had thought the deal definitely was going through, but one of the main partners involved had second thoughts on the purchase price of $12 a share, which was a major concession by Tom Scallen to keep the team in Canadian hands. Negotiations have been delayed as a result."

Hall added: "I've worked like hell to provide this club with Canadian ownership. I plan to continue to try to tie this package together, but time is of the essence and I don't want to throw any roadblocks in Scallen's way concerning the proposed sale between Medior and the Dan Topping Jr. group."

The Topping group, based in Miami, has offered Scallen $13.50 a share, for a total value of $9.1 million, Scallen said.

Hall said there is a possibility the purchase by a Canadian group will be resolved by Friday, date of the Canucks' next board of directors meeting in Vancouver.

Blazers Fire

Phil Watson

VANCOUVER (AP) — The Province says Phil Watson has been fired as general manager of Vancouver Blazers of the World Hockey Association.

The newspaper says the club will make the announcement today on the fate of the former player and coach of the National Hockey League New York Rangers who joined the Blazers as general manager when they played out of Philadelphia.

Watson was informed of the move this week, the paper says. He could not be reached for comment.

The Province says the announcement will pave the way for the hiring of Joe Crozier, whose contract as coach of Buffalo Sabres of the NHL expires today.

Blazers officials have made arrangements for a news conference here Friday and Crozier is reported to have air reservations for a flight to Vancouver Thursday.

For Mets—No Laughter

By JOE FROHLINGER
UPI Sports Writer

What started out as a laugh for the New York Mets turned out to be a down-to-the-wire thriller in Los Angeles.

The Mets jumped off to a 6-0 lead in the first two innings but managed to blow it before John Milner doubled home two runs in the top of the ninth inning to put New York in front Tuesday night. The Mets broke a Los Angeles win streak at seven games by beating the Dodgers, 8-7.

The game was surprisingly reminiscent of Monday's frenzied game in which the Dodgers surged ahead, 8-0, and barely hung on to win, 8-7. Dodger Manager Walter Alston didn't quite know what to make of the whole thing and said, "8-7 just seems to be the magic number."

Magic or no magic, Cleon Jones, who paced the Met attack with a double and single to knock in two runs, said "if we had lost this game, it would have been like dying."

Milner almost became the goat of the game when he dropped a throw at first from third baseman Wayne Garrett in the ninth inning that allowed

Bill Russell, who had tripled, to 12-10, Detroit took Kansas City, 7-2, Cleveland defeated Minnesota, 8-3, and Chicago topped Baltimore, 2-1.

Former Yankees Fritz Peterson and Fred Beene combined in an eight-hitter for the Indians. Charlie Spikes, another ex-Yank, had a two-run single, stretching his hitting streak to 19 games. It was the big blow of a four-run fifth inning which clinched the game for Cleveland. Bobby Darwin drove in three runs with a pair of homers for the Twins.

White Sox 2, Orioles 1:

Ron Santo, acquired from the crosstown Cubs last winter, hit his first AL homer with Ken Henderson aboard in the seventh inning, lifting Stan Bahnsen to his third victory. Bahnsen went the distance, allowing seven hits and striking out five. Jim Palmer, the AL's Cy Young Award winner in 1973, suffered his first setback against two wins.

Angels 16, Red Sox 6:

Bob Oliver drove in four runs with a sacrifice fly, double and triple and Ellie Rodriguez and Dave Chalk drove in three runs each for the Angels, who got a weird pitching performance from Nolan Ryan. Ryan went the distance, yielding six hits and seven walks plus two hit batsmen while striking out 15.

Doug Griffin suffered a

"severe concussion" when hit in the head by one of Ryan's fast balls and spent the night in the intensive care unit of Boston's Hahnemann Hospital. Dick McAuliffe and Cecil Cooper homered for the Red Sox.

Tigers 7, Royals 2:

Mickey Lolich, beaten in his first four decisions, pitched an eight-hitter for his first victory. Aurelio Rodriguez knocked in two runs with a double and two singles to lead a 15-hit Detroit attack which tagged Paul Splitteroff with his second loss. Fran Healy homered for the Royals.

Rangers 12, Brewers 10:

Jeff Burroughs and Jim Spencer led off a six-run eighth inning with homers as the Rangers overcame a 7-6 deficit to beat the Brewers. Cesar Tovar and Pedro Garcia also homered in the 25-hit affair. Jim Bibby went eight innings to win his fifth game.

Deal Is Stalled

For Canuck Sale

VANCOUVER (AP) — Coleman E. Hall, president of the Vancouver Hockey Club, said today there has not been any transaction consummated which would result in the sale of the National Hockey League Canucks.

Hall, commenting on reports that a Canadian group had completed plans to purchase the Canucks from Minneapolis-based Medior for $8.4 million, said a last-minute development stalled the proposed deal.

"The transaction has not been consummated," Hall said from his Vancouver office. "As of early Tuesday morning we had thought the deal definitely was going through, but one of the main partners involved had second thoughts on the purchase price of $12 a share, which was a major concession by Tom Scallen to keep the team in Canadian hands. Negotiations have been delayed as a result."

Hall added: "I've worked like hell to provide this club with Canadian ownership. I plan to continue to try to tie this package together, but time is of the essence and I don't want to throw any roadblocks in Scallen's way concerning the proposed sale between Medior and the Dan Topping Jr. group."

The Topping group, based in Miami, has offered Scallen $13.50 a share, for a total value of $9.1 million, Scallen said.

Hall said there is a possibility the purchase by a Canadian group will be resolved by Friday, date of the Canucks' next board of directors meeting in Vancouver.

Blazers Fire

Phil Watson

VANCOUVER (AP) — The Province says Phil Watson has been fired as general manager of Vancouver Blazers of the World Hockey Association.

The newspaper says the club will make the announcement today on the fate of the former player and coach of the National Hockey League New York Rangers who joined the Blazers as general manager when they played out of Philadelphia.

Watson was informed of the move this week, the paper says. He could not be reached for comment.

The Province says the announcement will pave the way for the hiring of Joe Crozier, whose contract as coach of Buffalo Sabres of the NHL expires today.

Blazers officials have made arrangements for a news conference here Friday and Crozier is reported to have air reservations for a flight to Vancouver Thursday.

Booster Club Honors Sawyer

SAUGERTIES

Boys and girls from 12 interscholastic sports were honored Saturday night by the Saugerties Athletic Booster Club at its third annual varsity athletic banquet.

In a number of sports, coaches selected a senior for special recognition. These plaques were given to Dean Limeri in wrestling and soccer, Sal Misasi in football, Brenda Miller in girls' volleyball, Kathy Emery in basketball, Scott Grubich in cheerleading, and Rich Rumble in tennis.

Outstanding Athlete of the Year award went to basketball and baseball standout Larry Panella, and cheerleading coach Mrs. Dawn Colavita was presented with a silver tray by the cheerleaders.

Members of the varsity squads all received an 8 x 10 photo of themselves in uniform as a memento from the Booster Club. The sports represented were: football, girls' volleyball, girls' basketball, basketball, track, wrestling, cross country, cheerleading, golf, tennis, baseball, and soccer.

Saugerties High School Athletic Director Fred Seither was master of ceremonies, with Steve Boutelle of WGHQ guest speaker.

The Athletic Booster Club's third annual junior varsity and junior high sports banquet is scheduled for June 9.

GLASCO

Phil Rizzuto, one of the New York Yankees' all-time great players and the team's baseball broadcaster for the past several years, will be the guest speaker at the Annual Awards Banquet of the Glasco-East Kingston Little League. The dinner will be held Saturday, May 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Glasco Firehouse.

The league is honoring the Glasco Athletic Club Braves who stopped the reign of the Hudson Cement Giants, who had won the league championships six straight years prior to 1973.

A candidate for baseball's Hall of Fame, Rizzuto played 13 seasons with the Yankees, compiling a lifetime batting average of .273 with 1582 hits. Nicknamed "The Scooter" by Mel Allen, the fleet-footed Rizzuto was one of baseball's all-time great bunters and baserunners. He batted .307 in his rookie year in 1941 and his career high .324 in 1956. He appeared in nine World Series and batted .246.

The public is invited to the dinner. Ticket information is available by calling Fred Davi (246-6433) or 246-6385.

Coleman Girls Romp

KINGSTON lead Coleman's 26-hit barrage. Coleman High girls launched G. Mihm and T. Timbrouck each collected four hits, while League (UCAT) softball league two other Coleman players — season by routing Ellenville, 23-0. C. Turck, J. Knott — came up 8. R.A. Bergin was the winning with three hits. First names were not available. No Ellenville player had more than two hits, a total shared by seven Ellies.

GIANT JULEP: At the Kentucky Derby Festival week in Louisville, the world's largest mint julep sundae was made with 273 gallons of ice cream and weighs 1,737 pounds at the downtown Beledere Park. The finishing touch was a cherry balloon being placed by Miss Marion McCord, Derby Queen, age 18. (UPI)

UCCC Committee Working on State Deadline

STONE RIDGE — The Presidential Selection Committee of the Board of Trustees of Ulster County Community College is working toward a May 15 state imposed deadline for the recommendation of a successor for retiring college president Dr. George B. Erbstein.

George Rusk Jr., chairman of the Presidential Selection Committee, told the Freeman that the trustees' recommendations must be approved by the State Board of Trustees. The state trustees will meet in early June and in order to make their agenda for the June meeting, UCCC trustees must have their top three choices finalized by May 15.

The state board of trustees doesn't meet during the summer, reconvening in September. Dr. Erbstein's resignation is effective Aug. 31.

The list of candidates for Erbstein's position has been reduced from several hundred to three. UCCC trustees have about two weeks to select a preference among those three candidates.

Court Rules Against Buckley

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals has ruled against broadcast commentators William F. Buckley Jr. and M. Stanton Evans in their fight against compulsory union membership.

A federal suit filed by the pair charges that their rights of free speech were violated by the National Labor Relations Board.

The federal appeals court held Tuesday that their rights were not violated. The ruling overturned a decision by U.S. District Court Judge Charles

Saugerties Man Is 'Skunked'

TOWN OF SAUGERTIES — A skunk proved to be the undoing of a 56-year-old Saugerties man Tuesday afternoon when he tripped on a rug while carrying a rifle and was wounded in the shoulder.

Saugerties Town Police said Louis Ambrosio was running from his house to shoot a skunk that was annoying his dogs when the mishap occurred at about 1:15 p.m.

Taken to Benedictine Hospital by Saugerties Ambulance, Ambrosio was listed in fair condition today at the hospital.

Two Killed In Accident

CATSKILL, N. Y. (UPI) — Two men were killed early today when their car crashed into a tree at an intersection in Jefferson Heights, just outside this Greene County village.

State police said both victims were ejected from the car.

Troopers said the two were not immediately identified.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Ivy Terrace and Route 23B.

Senate Approves Restoration of Death Penalty

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — After an emotion-charged five-hour debate, the Senate has given overwhelming approval to a bill restoring the death penalty in New York State.

The legislation, slightly amended from a version passed by the Assembly last week, would make the death sentence mandatory for the murder of policemen and prison employees on duty and for life convicts who commit murder in prison or during an escape attempt.

The Senate approved it 40-18 Tuesday and sent it back to the Assembly, which must pass the revised bill before turning it over to Gov. Malcolm Wilson, who is expected to sign it.

"If hard facts make bad law, then so be it," Deputy Majority Leader William Conklin, R-Brooklyn, said in concluding the Senate debate, in which the deterrent value of the death penalty was pitted against its morality and the legislation's possible constitutional flaws.

In other developments at the Capitol Wednesday:

—Wilson, legislative leaders and New York City Mayor

Abraham D. Beame reached agreement on a multi-item package of tax increases and fiscal gimmicks designed to help the city meet a projected $818-million budget deficit. The package, which must be approved by the legislature, contains a one per cent boost in the city's sales tax.

—Both houses approved an increase in the state minimum wage to $2.10 an hour next Jan. 1 and $2.30 Jan. 1, 1976. The state wage floor, which applies to numerous service industries not covered by the federal minimum wage, rises automatically to $2.00 an hour from $1.80 today. The bill was sent to the governor, who originally proposed it.

—The legislature gave final approval to a measure increasing state aid to the arts to $34 million, more than double last year's appropriation. It was sent to the governor.

The death penalty bill would replace a capital punishment statute struck down as unconstitutional by the state Court of Appeals last June.

That law covered the same crimes but left imposition of the sentence to the discretion of the jury. This was a feature that the state court found to be in violation of a 1972 U.S. Supreme Court decision against capital punishment laws that allowed arbitrary application.

The Assembly-passed measure would have mandated the death penalty for the murder of "peace officers," a broader category that covers such security-related jobs as probation officer, park ranger and Long Island Railroad police, as well as municipal police.

Supporters of the new proposal say they believe its mandatory nature will better meet the Supreme Court guidelines.

All of those voting against the bill in the Senate were Democrats, except for GOP Sens. Roy Goodman of Manhattan, John Marchi of Staten Island and Richard Schermerhorn of Orange County.

"The restoration of the death penalty has as its prime purpose not to take life but to protect life," said Republican Sen. Thomas F. McGowan, a former Buffalo policeman and chief sponsor of the bill.

Marchi, Goodman and many Democrats argued either that capital punishment did not reduce the incidence of murder or that it should be shunned by modern society for reasons of morality.

"If this body is to put its imprimatur on a state policy of killing the killers, we have in a sense met the enemy and we are them," said Marchi.

Some critics have predicted that the McGowan bill will be declared unconstitutional eventually because it will still permit discretion at various stages of the prosecutorial process, such as in the selection of charges and plea bargaining. The New York Civil Liberties Union has already announced it intends to challenge the measure's constitutionality in the courts.

Beame's Tax Hike Plea Has Wilson's Approval

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. As part of the bargain, also, but New York City Mayor Malcolm Wilson and legislative Beame and the legislature's publicans do not want to support the program of a Democratic minority leaders port the program of a Democratic mayor, and upstate conservative Republicans traditionally vote against most aid to the city.

Legislators up for re-election this year are reluctant about voting for the program, particularly the unpopular tax increases. Now, they must round up necessary votes to approve the package, which the mayor and governor revealed Tuesday at the state Capitol.

The legislation provides tax increases, various forms of borrowing by the city and advances on state aid to help close an anticipated $818 million deficit in Beame's proposed $12.3 billion budget.

Wilson and GOP leaders must provide some Republican votes

"This package maintains the integrity of the program I sent up," Beame said. But an aide to Beame acknowledged that the mayor would have preferred that the governor had implemented the program he brought up. But they compromised and under the circumstances this was the best he could get.

The final package includes: Authority for the city to borrow $370 million, through a bond already approved in aid to bank tax increase of 20 per cent and other fiscal devices.

—A 5 per cent surcharge on every bet in Off-Track Betting parlors, raising $30 million.

Beame had asked to borrow $520 million instead of $370 million, to be repaid by an increase in the stock transfer tax, but Wilson refused the tax increase.

Beame also wanted direct borrowing authority, advances state aid, instead of advances on future state aid, and $77 million on future state aid.

on future state aid, and $77 million on future state aid.

Kissinger Sounds Out Sadat On Disengagement Agreement

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (UPI) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger asked Egyptian President Anwar Sadat for help today before trying to persuade Israel and Syria to separate their armies on the Golan Heights.

A high American official traveling with Kissinger said the secretary of state was sounding out Sadat on what could be achieved in a disengagement accord between Israel and Syria.

The official denied Kissinger was carrying a troop pullback plan on his fifth Middle East peace mission, but Egypt's government-controlled press said the secretary of state was trying to push a compromise proposal of his own.

Kissinger, encouraged by talks with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Algerian President Houari Boumedienne, flew to Egypt Tuesday afternoon for discussions with Sadat.

Sadat greeted Kissinger with the warmth of a friendship that has grown since the secretary of state got Egypt and Syria to separate their forces along the Suez Canal last January.

The Egyptian leader called Kissinger "my friend" and told the secretary's wife, Nancy, "You are among Henry's family here."

An American spokesman said the two men met later for an hour and a half, resumed the talks at a small "family dinner" party hosted by Sadat and then conferred after the meal for another 45 minutes until just after midnight.

The U.S. spokesman called the talks cordial and said the two men discussed the Israeli-Syrian disengagement issue in a "very warm" atmosphere.

The Middle East News Agency said Kissinger was carrying a compromise disengagement plan taking details from Syrian and Israeli proposals submitted to him in Washington earlier this year.

The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said the plan called for Israeli withdrawal from all Syrian territory captured in the 1973 war, a partial pullback from land seized in 1967, creation of a U.N. buffer zone, release of Israeli war prisoners and return of Syrian refugees.

The official traveling with Kissinger's party said Israel would probably have to make the first move to break the disengagement deadlock. But both sides would have to make concessions if Kissinger were to succeed, he said.

Sadat took a break from the talks today and went to Cairo to make his annual May Day address. Kissinger and his wife used the time to go sightseeing.

Kissinger was scheduled to meet Sadat on the Egyptian leader's return for more talks before the secretary of state flies to Israel Thursday.

May Day Demonstrations Planned

By The Associated Press

May Day demonstrations planned in Lisbon and Buenos Aires today overshadowed Moscow's annual Red Square parade on the international holiday honoring the working man.

Portugal's new military junta, in a move to contain and channel burgeoning leftism, approved the country's first legal May Day observance in half a century "as a tribute to the Portuguese workers."

Lisbon braced for wild demonstrations by unionists, Socialists and Communists celebrating the overthrow of dictator Antonio de Oliveira Salazar's heirs last week and the promise of political freedom.

The new Portuguese strongman, Gen. Antonio de Spínola, actively encouraged the leftist demonstrations—which the old regime had banned.

Ultra-leftists organized a "Red May Day." Legal labor unions set up a separate rally at which Spínola was expected to appear. It had the blessing of the Democratic Movement, the ineffectual legal opposition movement under the old regime.

In Buenos Aires, President Juan D. Peron and right-wing labor leaders who are the chief bulwark of his government sought to use the holiday to rally support against young leftist in the Peronist movement. The General Confederation of Workers, or CGT, scheduled a four-hour rally in the palm-lined Plaza de Mayo, in front of the presidential palace, and called on the nation's 9 million workers to unite in a "Fiesta of Work and National Unity."

With the 78-year-old president scheduled to address the crowd from a balcony of the palace, the heaviest security precautions in memory were in effect to prevent violence from the Peronist Youth and their guerrilla wing, the Montoneros.

Elsewhere: French unions called off their usual march through the streets of Paris to keep things cool and not endanger Socialist Francois Mitterrand's chances in the first round of the presidential election Sunday. An outdoor meeting and festival in a Paris suburb was planned instead.

Egyptian President Anwar Sadat interrupted talks on Israeli-Syrian troop disengagement with Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to make a May Day speech at an industrial center south of Cairo. Kissinger and his wife were to go sightseeing in Alexandria, then take a Mediterranean boat ride.

In Uruguay, a powerful bomb exploded in front of a newspaper office on the eve of the first May Day in many years without an official labor celebration. The newspaper sides with military-backed President Juan M. Bordaberry, who outlawed labor union activities.

Tight Security at Hearst Home

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Tight security was set up at Patricia Hearst's family home in fashionable Hillsborough today as the deadline on a $4 million food giveaway program drew near.

"It's a kind of critical time," her father, Randolph A. Hearst, president and editor of The San Francisco Examiner, told newsmen late Tuesday. "The next few days, you don't know what's going to happen."

The money will be released from escrow and applied to the food program by the Hearst Corp. Friday, only if Miss Hearst is released by the Symbionese Liberation Army, which kidnapped her on Feb. 4. Hearst has already provided $2 million for groceries for the poor in an effort to win his daughter's freedom.

But Miss Hearst, 20, said in recent tape-recorded messages sent by the SLA that she was giving up her former life and joining the revolutionary drive of the underground organization.

Hearst said a rusted iron gate in front of the family home just south of here was being welded shut, guards were being assigned to ring the house and locks were being changed.

"Certain parts of the house have not been so secure so we're beefing up security," the newspaperman said.

In a later interview he said he was "not very optimistic" the SLA would set free his daughter and he repeated his contention that she had "mind control used on her" to swing her into the ranks of the SLA.

Senate Confirms Simon

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former energy chief William E. Simon has been confirmed as President Nixon's fourth Secretary of the Treasury.

There was no debate as the Senate assented to the nomination on a voice vote.

Simon succeeds George P. Shultz, who announced his resignation earlier to return to private life sometime next month. Shultz will remain at his post until Simon is sworn in by the President.

Sawyers' Band Leads The Way

KINGSTON — The Sawyer Marching Band — the pride of Saugerties High School — will help celebrate the 10th anniversary of Kingston Plaza on May 4.

John Konz, president of the Kingston Plaza Merchants' Association, has announced that the Sawyer Marching Band will step off from Westbrook Lane at 11 a.m. on Saturday, May 4, proceed down Clinton Avenue to Plaza Road, and then back to the Plaza. The mini parade will end between Herzogs and the Sears Auto Center, where the Sawyers will perform several musical selections.

Their appearance Saturday promises to be the highlight of the Plaza's anniversary celebration. The Sawyer Marching Band is one of the most widely acclaimed performing groups in the region, enlivening each presentation with original tunes, snappy formations and colorful regalia. The precision marching unit of 130-members, performing under the baton of director David Keehn, has displayed its impressive talents throughout the Northeast.

Perhaps its most memorable performance came this past February when the Sawyer Marching Band participated in Quebec, Canada's annual Winter Carnival. The parade is annually one of the largest in North America, and is Canada's answer to the New Year's Day Rose Bowl parade in Pasadena, Calif.

Before that momentous appearance, the Sawyer Marching Band served as the Queen's Escort Band at the National Tobacco Festival Parade in Richmond, Virginia in the fall of 1972. The group has also been invited to perform in Baltimore, Boston, Albany and Toronto, as well as at many local events and pageants.

Joining the widely acclaimed Sawyer band that Saturday will be a contingent of Disney characters from Disney World in Florida. The troupe will include such familiar faces as Mickey, Minnie, Donald Duck, Dumbo and Pluto.

Their appearance in Kingston coincides with the free trip the Plaza Merchants' Association will award during its anniversary celebration. The contest winner will receive an all-expense paid trip for two adults and one child under 12 to Disney World. Complete details and registration requirements can be obtained from any participating Plaza merchant.

All Types Of Shoes At Rowe's

KINGSTON While all shoes are made for walking, they are also made with other considerations in mind — there are shoes for casual wear, shoes for dress wear, plain shoes and shoes with flair. And Rowe's Shoe Store in the Kingston Plaza has shoes for men, women and children for all types of wear. With summer on its way, shoes for casual wear are a definite must. At Rowe's the big rages in women's casual wear are clogs, platforms, hurrachis and woven leather shoes, both in flats and clog type. And of course, sandals of all types remain in style for the warmer seasons. "Red seems to be the predominant color this year," says manager Mike Carpino. Also popular for more formal wear on those special evenings are slings and wedges, and of course, dress heels in many styles and colors. "Simple pumps with the new baby doll toe and moderate heel are also in now for women," says Carpino. The trend in men's shoes has reversed itself somewhat from the high platforms that were the rage last year, according to Carpino. Platforms for men are still in, but with moderate heels this year. A selection of two-tones, solids and in patent leathers is available on the shelves at Rowe's. "The major trend this year is the two-tone patent leather shoe for formal and dress wear," Carpino says. The more traditional styles in men's shoes are also still around and going as strong as ever, particularly slip-on shoes, which Carpino says are becoming more and more established with each year.

'We Care More, And It Shows'

Anniversary, birthday, graduation . . . whatever the occasion, the gift that means something can be found at Card 'n Party in the Kingston Plaza, where manager Jerry Goldberg's motto is, "We care more, and it shows." And for people who care and want it to show in their gifts and parties, Card 'n Party has a full line of items for those special dates.

The wall decoration that would fit perfectly in a friend's new home, chinaware for mom on her birthday or on Mother's Day, a new ashtray for dad when Father's Day rolls around — all are at Card 'n Party. The items that everyone wants but never seems to get are all around — and with price tags to fit every budget. Tastefully displayed on shelves throughout the store are candles of every shape and size and glassware to please the eye of the beholder. And not only are there gifts, there are accessories, too. Ribbons and bows and wrapping paper that will hide and give pleasure themselves until the moment of unveiling. Birthday cards, wedding cards, happy cards . . . cards for most any one anytime to send greetings or congratulations. And those special days and years can be recorded in such items as wedding or birthday albums, which are also in stock at Card 'n Party. All those special items for lighting up eyes and lifting spirits are at Card 'n Party, where just browsing can be a time of pleasure.

'In' Shop Is Valley Casuals

"Don't Sit Under the Apple Tree" without wearing fashions by Valley Casuals.

In this nostalgic era, the Kingston Plaza store for the young and the young at heart has a swiny, springy selection of floppy, wide-brimmed hats, puffed-sleeve, waist-high tops and halter-backed gowns and tops.

The "In" shop with the "In" crowd, Valley Casuals has installed this year's very "In" hats, for the beach, for the marketplace, for anyplace you want to wear one. They come in cotton, wool and straw and go simply great with anything from bikini's to blazers.

Acquiring accessories is easy at Valley Casuals — whether you need fashionably big sunglasses to go under those hats, belts, bags or beads.

There is no doubt that jeans are just as popular as ever this year and Valley Casuals which has been a Plaza merchant for more than half a dozen years, has a new supply including some with silver embroidery as an added incentive to keep adding another pair to your wardrobe.

Denim bikini's are also around as are denim bags, jackets, pants suits with no sign of jeans losing their popularity with the gals.

No matter what your clothing needs, the huge inventory is bound to turn up something to your liking. There are lovely soft flowing nighties and negligees . . . Thin-wale, pastel corduroy jackets are available as are a host of summer separates in peach, pastel yellow, blues and the ever popular white.

Mix and match can be great fun at Valley Casuals. Mix the prints with the plain colors, or be bold and put two prints together. Try high rise tops with high rise pants and don't forget Hi-Tide swim wear if you want to ride high in this year's fashion world.

Stitches Easier For Men

KINGSTON
The Style Fabric Center in the Kingston Shopping Plaza may have been considered "No Man's Land" by most men and not a few women a short time ago, but not anymore.
"We're seeing a great advent of women sewing for men and what's more, men sewing for men," said a spokeswoman.
The Style Fabric Center makes it easier for the men who want to put themselves in stitches; the store features a Johnny Carson line of double knit fabric which is easy to sew and handle, is washable, non-wrinkable, packs and travels well.

Other fabrics are in good supply although like elsewhere, cotton is limited. Style Fabric, however, makes up for a less than bountiful supply of pure cotton by offering a wide selection of polyester cottons and other materials.

Of course all the other necessities are there for the beginning to expert do it yourself including needles and pins, threads and all the major pattern lines. The people that work there know their business, too, and they don't mind answering questions.
In fact, they offer free cost estimates on such things as draperies and slip covers. "Just bring in your measurements," suggests a salesperson.

Plaza Merchants Assn. Plans Gala Celebration

KINGSTON The Kingston Plaza Merchants Association will celebrate its 10th anniversary with a gala parade on May 4, beginning at 11 a.m. at Britt's. The parade will go up to Westbrook Lane, over Clinton Avenue to Clinton Avenue to Plaza Road and then back to Britt's. Disney characters will be featured including Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse, Donald Duck, Pluto and Dumbo, a host of favorites to delight children and adults alike. Music will be provided by the award winning Saugerties Marching Band from Saugerties High School. The American Legion 40&8 locomotive will also join the parade. Top prize is a trip to Disney World in Orlando, Fla. for four days and three nights for two adults and one child under 12. Registration is at any of the 28 participating stores that are members of the Kingston Plaza Merchants Association. The entry blank will be in the form of a picture of Donald Duck which can be colored. Children are encouraged to color Donald although the drawing for prizes will be at random; the quality of the coloring will not be a factor in winning the trip to Disneyland.

This year the Plaza Merchants is headed by John Kronz of Sears with Les Aller of Rudolph's as vice president.

The Association coordinates promotions by the member stores and advertising for those promotions.

The next promotion, in fact, is a repeat of last year's highly successful flea market. It's set for June 1 with a rain date of June 8.

PLANNING AT CARD AND PARTY—Discussing Kingston Plaza's tenth anniversary plans with Card and Party manager Jerry Goldbey (r) is John Konz, president of the Kingston Plaza Merchants, coordinators for the promotional activity.

Triangle Shoes...Much Fashion

KINGSTON So much fashion for so little! That is Triangle Shoes way of saying its THE place to shop for shoes for the whole family.

Bare and bold for '74, they boast, placing emphasis on sling backs and sandals with that open air look.

The ever-popular blue denim can be found in footwear for the gals with nailhead trim. Just the thing to go with their jeans.

For the men there are high heels, low heels, black moccasins with raw hide laces. There are platform shoes, laced numbers and side buckled boots. Take your pick, the selection couldn't be bigger or more attractive than this summer's stock.

Triangle Shoes, one of the first stores in Kingston Plaza when it opened 10 years ago, is also featuring "the laced look of Latigo" this year. That means leather shoes with designs of flowers or other motifs imprinted in the leather in border or other lines.

Blue Star Children's shoes are also available as are All Pro Sneakers for boys from only $3.99 to $5.99. They have suction soles, arch cushions, full cushion inner soles, reinforced heel and rugged duty uppers. Also double duty eyelets, ventilated arch, heavy duty laces and reinforced bumper guards and toes.

For little girls, there are of course the dainty little vinyl pumps as well as sling back wedgies "just like mommies."

For the men, there is "a young man's world of new design." You name it, Triangle Shoes has it in the newest shoe fashions.

Patio Shop...New Britt's Feature

KINGSTON Since it first opened in 1964, Britt's in the Kingston Plaza has constantly expanded, adding new departments, and improving those already in existence.

Now is certainly the time to visit one of Britt's newer departments, the Patio Shop, where pools, screen houses, lawn swings, umbrella tables, and patio furniture for varied tastes herald the coming summer season.

Another of Britt's newer departments is the Molly Pitcher Shop where beautiful furniture in colonial or early American styles can be found. A large selection of chairs, rockers, lamps and tables to dress up the home are on display.

And what goes better with new furniture and the coming summer season than new drapes? Britt's custom drapery shop offers a wide selection of drapes in many styles and color patterns. And personnel with the drapery shop will visit your home to help in choosing the size, color and style that will make a room just perfect.

Britt's Bath Shop — although it is not new — has expanded considerably since the store opened 10 years ago, and now offers one of the widest selection of bath supplies and accessories in the area.

For those who might not want new drapes, furniture, patio supplies or bath accessories, Britt's still has much more to offer:

Clothes for dress or casual wear in men's, women's, children's or infant's departments;

A full line of supplies for sports from tennis to golf to make the summer weekends more pleasurable in the sporting goods department;

Ladies accessories, kitchen supplies, hobbies and crafts, shoes, household items . . . , all at Britt's.

Rudolph's Family Jewelry

The sun and the sea were the inspiration for Rudolph Jeweler's collection of precious and semi-precious stone rings . . . They started with settings of 14kt gold and out of the sea, Rudolph's captured the deep green of this month's birthstone — genuine emerald, and surrounded it with the only thing that out dazzles the sun — diamonds! and for only $125. and range in price from $20

Rudolph's the "diamond up. people, envisioned dawn with a genuine opal and have lighted it with a diamond for $250.

The romance of the sea was the persuasion for most of the Kingston Plaza merchant's diamond rings priced from a low $99 to $5,000. It is no wonder then that Rudolph's urges "give her the sun and the sea from the vast collection of stone rings." You'll find these and many other gift ideas for Mother's Day at Rudolph's growing and popular item make which is one of the many stores in the Kingston Plaza Rudolph's suggests, with each celebrating the 10th anniversary of the shopping center this month.

May is also the month to think about those summer weddings coming up and from Rudolphs, return your purchase within 60 days and you will receive a full refund.

Rudolphs has a virtual treasure of diamond bridal sets, clusters, bands solitaires and sincerity rings in classic or contemporary styles at just the price you wish to pay.

Sincerity rings are rings for the young in heart. Delicate editions, they sometimes come with their very own diamond — and range in price from $20

Located in the plaza for about five years Rudolph's has become a family shopping center for jewelry. In addition to diamond cocktail and dinner fashion watches priced from $14.95, the store has a wide variety of earrings for both pierced and unpierced ears. Sarde and Patrician 14kt pierced ear ornaments are featured.

Family rings, an ever growing and popular item make a fine Mothers day gift, Rudolph's suggests, with each ring set with a separate birthstone for each child of the wearer.

'Missing Link' Found At Al's Appliance Center

KINGSTON but what about the "rest of the kitchen?"
 Al's Appliance in the Kingston Shopping Plaza has found its own "missing link," the one thing it needed to offer its customers the complete kitchen. To be sure, Al's selection of major appliances for the kitchen was always extensive and of high quality — General Electric and Westinghouse are name brands that have been trusted by women for years — but what about the "rest of the kitchen?" Werbalowsky explains, "we don't make a plywood cabinet." In short, what about cabinets? Al's has cabinets, custom made cabinets and they are beautiful. Al Werbalowsky's entry in the custom cabinet field is the result of his partnership with Richard Berman, formerly of New York City, who at 29 years of age already has an enviable reputation as a cabinet maker in the finest traditions of the art. The response has been overwhelming. Werbalowsky told the Freeman. "We started about five months and its been gangbusters ever since." In fact, according to Werbalowsky, there's a waiting period of about three months but these cabinets are worth waiting for. "All our cabinets are hardwood," Werbalowsky explains, "we don't make a plywood cabinet." While waiting for delivery, a customer can still avail himself of Al's wide selection of major appliances including televisions, freezers, washers, dryers, refrigerators and ranges. Al's has over 500 air-conditioners in stock ranging from 4,000 BTU to house-cooling 32,000 BTU models. They offer 11 energy saving models. The store is open nine to nine, Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and from nine to five on Tuesdays and Saturdays. Immediate delivery is available and service is provided by two full time servicemen.

Crepe soles have...
 That natural rhythm Bounce along, begin to really move, in a witty wedge that bottoms out in cushy crepe. With your kind of look on top.

34 JOHN STREET and KINGSTON PLAZA

SAME DAY SERVICE—Al's Appliance, one of the many Kingston Plaza merchants to participate in the plaza's Tenth Anniversary Celebration, boasts of one-day customer service. The service specialists on all major appliances that work on that promise are (l-r) Eugene Frederick and Fred Sutler Jr. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

PREPARING—Nancy Merrill of the houseware's department at Herzog's Supply, gets the wicker in order as the store prepares for its sale to observe the 10th anniversary of Kingston Plaza. As the photo indicates, Herzog's has ample supply of the wickers. The store also has many other supplies for the home.

Uniforms A Specialty At Plural

KINGSTON

There is something new to be said about today's uniforms for women — they are not uniform.

And, that is wonderful news for it allows today's fashion conscious females to choose from a wide range of styles, and colors and lend individuality to their on-the-job costumes.

Uniforms, a specialty at Plural Fashions in Kingston Plaza, come in dresses, pants suits or separates in sizes 12 to 52.

Lace trimmed or plain, or long or short sleeved, the selection is a vast one with every shade of the rainbow available. Choose from a pastel lavender, blue or pink? How about a vibrant red, dramatic black a sunny gold, aqua or orange. Traditional white is also available in a wide range of designs.

Plural Fashions is one of three stores in a Mid-Hudson Valley chain of clothing stores which specializes in clothes for "the womanly built woman," with a host of half sizes to fit every figure.

Pants suits come in sizes 12 through 20 and half sizes of 14½ to 24½ and 26½ to 32½, and in an equally wide range of colors and styles.

There are two-piece double knits of 100 per cent polyester that are machine washable. Then there are the pants dresses by PollyKnits — a washable, dunkable, douseable fabric by Inwood Knitting Mills Inc.

The store, which will be a resident of the Kingston Plaza seven years this September, also features sportswear including pants and slacks, tops, both sleeveless, short-sleeved and long sleeved as well as a wide selection of bathing suits for the mature woman's figure.

Skirted and princessed lined, the suits are expertly tailored, some with contrasting piping.

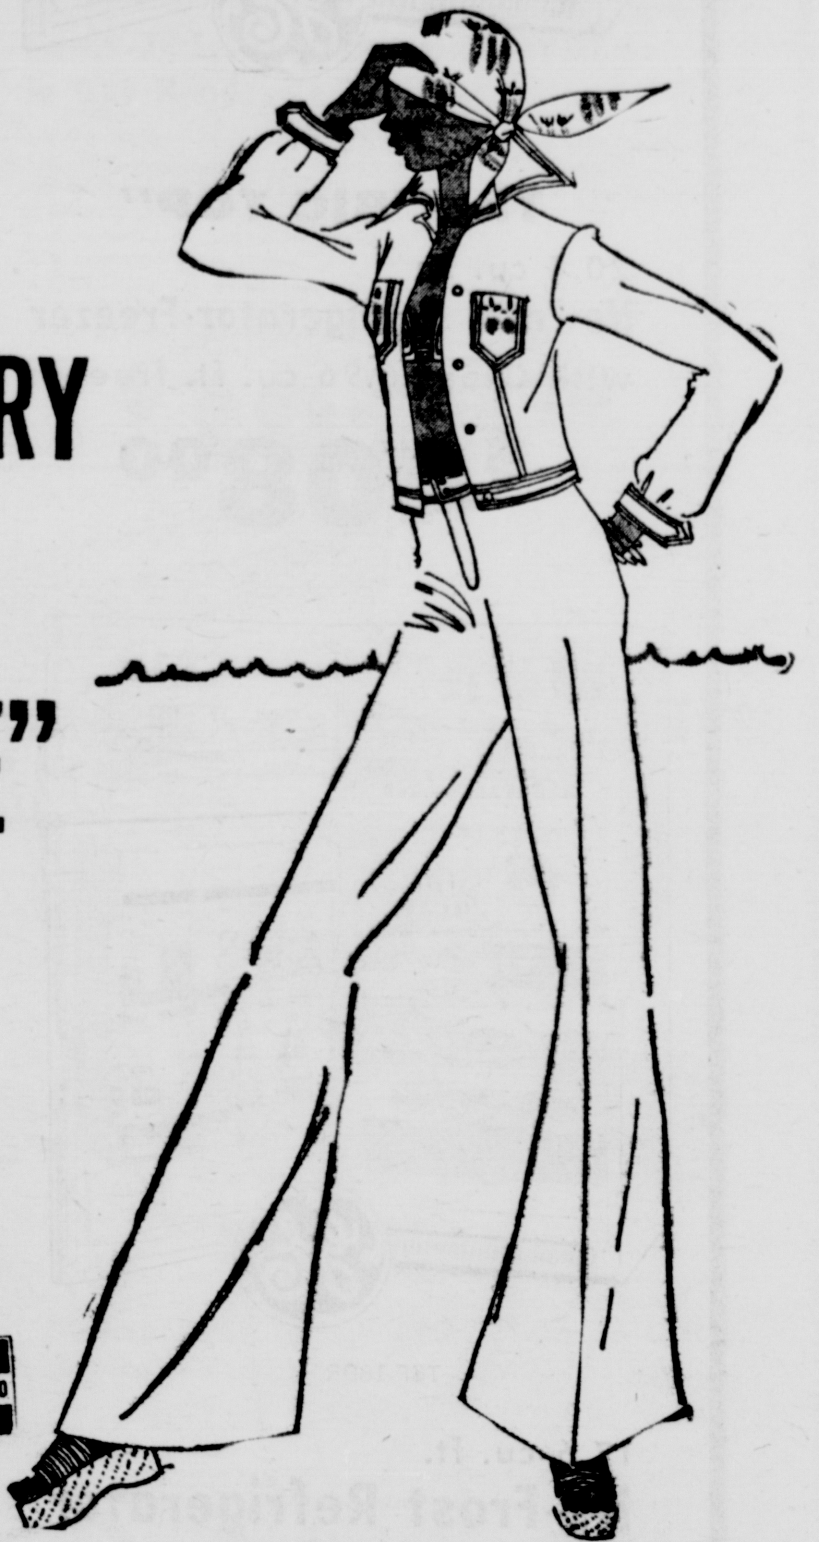

"We have the biggest assortment of cotton dresses in town," Plural Fashions boasts, and rightly so. Pastels, prints, checks, plain or printed fabrics, there is something for everyone.

Need a gift for Mothers Day? Plural has a full line of lingerie nightgowns, smocks, shifts, dusters and cobbler aprons as well as sweaters.
